GE Strike Ends On National Level; Eye Local Issues

By TOM CRANE
Associated Press Writer

Members of the two unions that bargain nationally with the General Electric Co. have approved a new contract, ending for them a strike that began Oct. 26. But nine unions that bargain locally still have not come to terms with GE.

The International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, and the independent United Electrical Workers announced Tuesday that their membership had accepted the 40-month contract.

The IUE said it would notify GE at noon today that its strike was over and would meet to set up a timetable for return to work. The UE was expected to follow suit.

But IUE and UE members were expected to honor picket lines at plants which employ members of unions still on strike. It was unclear when the first IUE or UE members would return to work and how many would be affected by the strikes of smaller unions.

The pact, announced last Thursday, provides pay increases over 40 months ranging from 61 to 82 cent an hour, depending on the cost-of-living clause. The average hourly pay for GE's 310,000 domestic employees had been $3.25.

The smallest of the 12 unions that struck GE also accepted a contract Tuesday. The 150-member GE local of the AFL-CIO American Flint Glass Workers Union in Logan, Ohio, accepted terms similar to the IUE and UE contracts.

But the other nine unions still must sign a total of 80 contracts negotiated on the plant level. Some of the locals vote today on contract offers, while others are still negotiating.

How soon all 130,000 strikers in 135 cities will be back on the job remained unclear.

The IUE, which represents 88,500 GE workers, confirmed ratification when locals in Rome, Ga., and Lynn, Everett and Wilmington, Mass., voted to accept, although GE's largest local, in Schenectady, N.Y., rejected the offer.

The IUE said 40,669 had voted to accept and 7,652 against the offer, with about 15,000 votes still out.

A United Electrical Workers official did not reveal the vote, but said it "carried well" among the UE's 16,000 workers. The settlements are retroactive to Jan. 26.

GE, whose production was crippled by the strike, has estimated that the settlement will add nearly $1 billion to its labor costs over the 40 months of the contract.

Big Changes In Selective Service Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee has called for sweeping executive and legislative changes in the Selective Service system to make the draft fairer and more uniform.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., called on the Nixon administration Tuesday to end occupational deferments immediately, student deferments in time of conflict, abolish state and local quotas, establish a uniform national policy and kick the military out of the Selective Service system.

"Of necessity," the subcommittee report said, "the military traditionally operates with less regard for individual rights and procedural niceties than we expect and require in civilian life."

The report suggested Congress consider the need for a selective conscientious objector status.

One committee witness proposed a draftee seeking such status should be "required to undergo noncombatant service of comparable risk to that undergone by draftees" and if this were not possible "to serve for a longer time."

Nude Blonde Ends Class; Fists Swing

MESSINA, Sicily (AP) — Prof. Themistocles Martines was well into his lecture on constitutional law at the University of Messina Tuesday when into the class walked a curvaceous blonde wearing high leather boots and nothing else.

"Get out of here!" Prof. Martines yelled.

The girl kept walking toward him.

"Somebody, cover her," the professor commanded.

A coat sailed through the air and landed on the blonde's shoulders.

Loud debate erupted among the law students over whether nudity should be allowed in the classroom, and who might have sent the girl in as a test case.

"Only the fascists could organize such an obscenity," shouted one leftist.

As fists began to fly, Martines fled for help. Officials of the university intervened and calmed the students down.

The blonde intruder had disappeared.

See Soviet Union Worried Over Storm In Middle East

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The tone of the Kremlin's diplomacy suggests that it is frightened by the prospect of a gathering storm over the Middle East. It may mean that Moscow is unwilling at this time to face a new major crisis and is seeking some way to head it off.

While its bargaining may be tough, Moscow appears concerned that its whole foreign policy drive may be thrown into a tailspin by the intensifying Arab-Israeli hostilities.

In its latest note to Washington, Moscow has threatened to escalate the arms race in the Middle East by sending more arms to Egypt. Yet the thrust of its diplomatic activity suggests deep worry. The Kremlin has been sending out warnings to the Americans, British and French of rising peril in the Middle East as if the Russians were digging in for a round of horse-training.

The Middle East is a tangle for both superpowers. For each, more is at stake than just its explicit interests in the area.

For the Russians, a red hot new crisis could upset plans to take some of the heat from East-West relations in Europe. For both it can jolt whatever hopes have been invested in SALT, the strategic arms limitation talks due to reopen in Vienna in April. Washington and Moscow have parallel interests in limiting superweapons. For each, the race has been a heavy drain. This has been especially true of the Soviet Union, which has been wrestling with problems of a consumer economy suffering from neglect because of the arms race.

In a major policy address last July, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko said the Middle East "exerts great influence on the situation of the world as a whole" and is a "dangerous hotbed which can have serious consequences."

Cromyko risked offending the Arabs by asserting Soviet willingness for a settlement involving "simultaneous recognition of all states of the Middle East, including Israel, to an independent national existence." Most Arab leaders deny that Israel has the right to independent existence in their midst.

If Moscow concedes Israel's right to live, it might also, in tense circumstances, concede a little more. Soviet and American positions on a prospective settlement are not far apart, and each power is in a position to bring pressure for de-escalation of the conflict.

Much more than Vietnam, the Middle East threatens to interfere with progress on other issues. The Russians probably are less agitated about Vietnam than they let on but the Middle East is another case. Moscow has extended and committed itself and now has a considerable investment to protect.

Columbus Officer Resigns April 30

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police Patrolman Robert Brodt resigned Tuesday, effective April 30 on completion of 25 years with the force, after Safety Director James J. Hughes Jr. agreed to lift Brodt's suspension.

Brodt was a defendant in a recent federal court trial of eight policemen and a reputed numbers racket figure, all of whom were acquitted of gambling conspiracy charges. Departmental charges later were filed against seven of the officers and they were suspended pending hearings.

La., a helicopter crewman. "The gunships fired into the thicket and the North Vietnamese started running out from everywhere."

Intelligence sources said the troops apparently were from the Dong Nai Regiment, which spearheaded an offensive against Saigon in May 1968 and was badly mauled. The sources said the regiment is still under strength and short of arms, ammunition and food, but they expect it to be active during the Tet period in the area north of Saigon.

"The North Vietnamese ran into a bamboo thicket," said Sgt. L.E. Perkins of Franklin, year holiday, approached. A four-day Viet Cong cease-fire is scheduled to begin at 7 a. m. Thursday—6 p.m. today, EST—and a 24-hour allied truce is to start 11 hours later.

American air cavalrymen and helicopter gunships reported killing 32 North Vietnamese soldiers in two clashes along the Cambodian border north of Saigon. No American casualties were reported.

American and South Vietnamese forces said they killed another 59 enemy troops in three clashes south of Da Nang. Two South Vietnamese soldiers were killed and two Americans

Carswell Nomination Tied Up With Electoral Reform

WASHINGTON (AP) — Electoral reform has become intertwined with the Supreme Court nomination of Judge G. Harrold Carswell, but Chairman James O. Eastland says his Senate Judiciary Committee will untangle the two issues quickly.

"Both sides are in a trading position," the Mississippi Democrat said forecasting a break in the impasse that developed Tuesday after the committee ended hearings on Carswell's nomination.

The committee went into closed-session after hearing the final two witnesses and immediately bogged down in a dispute over when it would act on a proposed constitutional amendment for the election of the president by direct popular vote.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chief Senate sponsor of the amendment, called for an agreement fixing a time for a vote on it before the committee acted on Carswell's nomination. Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., balked.

After the meeting, Sen. Marco Cook, R-Ky., told newsmen, "If there was any action in there, it was confusion."

But the committee did table, by a 9-6 vote, a motion by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., to invite Carswell to testify again to answer critics who accused him of a segregationist and anticivil rights record.

The committee then unanimously voted to invite Carswell, now a judge on the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals, to file a rebuttal statement.

Thurmond accused Bayh of blocking committee action on Carswell's nomination by insisting on an agreement first to vote on the proposed electoral reform approved by the House last September.

But Bayh said a threatened filibuster by Thurmond against the proposed constitutional amendment was the stumbling block. He moved in the committee to vote on Carswell next Monday and on the electoral reform proposal on April 14.

Thurmond countered with a tabling motion but lost 12-6-4.

At a later news conference with Eastland, Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska, the top-ranking Republican on the committee, said he thought a vote on Carswell's nomination should have priority.

Warmer Air On Way For Rest Of Week

Ohio spent another frigid night Tuesday with sub zero temperatures being recorded around the state and the coldest readings being listed at 6 below at Youngstown and 5 below at Toledo.

Other low readings included 4 below at Akron-Canton, Mansfield, Dayton and Zanesville; 3 below at Findlay, and 2 below at Cincinnati, Cleveland and Columbus.

The weather bureau said the temperatures will start to moderate today and that lows tonight will range generally between 16 and 20.

But it was in the five-day extended forecast where the best news was to be found. The weather bureau said Ohio temperatures will average above normal for the five-day period Thursday through Monday, with daytime highs averaging mostly in the 40s and lows at night from the mid and low 20s north to the lower 30s in the extreme south.

The outlook for Thursday calls for cloudy weather with a chance of snow and temperatures ranging from 25 to 30 degrees in the afternoon.

Arctic cold enveloped almost the entire nation from the Mississippi valley to the Atlantic today and stung wide areas of the Deep South with a hard freeze.

Temperatures dipped into the low 20s, and lower, in northern Florida. Pensacola residents awoke to an icy 22-degree chill. It was 19 in Crestview, 23 in Tallahassee and 25 at Gainesville.

The mercury settled near zero in northern fringes of the Deep South states. Atlanta recorded 10 shortly before daybreak. Jackson, Miss., had a low of 13, some 30 degrees colder than Denver in the central Rockies.

Drug Control Bill Fought In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the Senate, the main event in the fight over the drug abuse bill was over its "no-knock" provision. The House, however, may take umbrage at what some see as empire building by the Justice Department.

Rep. Paul G. Rogers, D-Fla., made that clear Monday at a hearing of a House Commerce subcommittee. He repeatedly challenged Justice Department witnesses about the need for the department to conduct drug research as permitted in the Senate-passed bill.

The Department of Health Education and Welfare, Rogers said, operates successfully in this field.

"You don't have the capability," Rogers told John E. Ingersoll, director of the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs and Michael R. Sonnenreich, the bureau's chief counsel.

"There is a proliferation of hallucinogenic drugs on the market that need immediate control," Sonnenreich replied. "There are instances when we must respond with great speed."

During the Senate debate, the main fight was over the "no-knock" provision which allowed government agents to raid without warning a home where drugs are suspected being used or stored.

A South Vietnamese air force major was killed near Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Air base when a bomb attached to the engine of his jeep blew up as he started the vehicle. In the Mekong Delta province of Kien Phong, a terrorist bomb ripped through a market place, killing three Vietnamese and wounding 13 others.

In Hue, President Nguyen Van Thieu said he foresees eventual peace in Vietnam "because we are stronger and the Communists are weaker." Someday, he said, the Viet Cong "will fade away," and the Saigon government will have a "military, political, economic and social victory."

Adjourned Session Set

Flu Bug Hits Council Members

Circleville City Council, unable to pass any legislation because two of its members were unable to attend due to illness, scheduled an adjourned session 8 p.m. Monday.

Samuel (Pete) Cook and Keith Wagner were the members of the city's legislative body who were sidelined with the flu. Because several important pieces of legislation required prompt action, the extra session was scheduled. A meeting between council and city firemen is also set for Monday.

One of the prime reasons for the extra session is an ordinance which would allow the board of public utilities to enter into a contract for engineering and construction of water and sewer lines to the Circleville RCA plant site.

RCA is to pay for the construction of the lines. Councilman David Crawford said the plant has reached the point in its construction where fire protection is needed.

THE ordinance was held to its first reading since there were not enough members present to suspend the rules and vote on passage.

Another key ordinance provided for the salary for a trained safety director. The salary was set at $11,900 for a service director who holds an engineering degree and $12,700 if he is also a licensed engineer.

Councilman Crawford noted a qualified engineer could save more than the amount of his salary in consulting fees, particularly with the construction of the sewerage disposal plant slated to start soon.

Another ordinance read for the first time created the position of chief of operations of the service department and set the salary for the position at $7,200 annually. The ordinance abolished the old post of foreman of the service department.

An ordinance to vacate an alley behind Ralston-Purina was read. Harry F. Davis, one of the signers of a petition to vacate the alley explained that it was little used. He said that

Ellenburg Quits Post In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Carl B. Stokes said today he had accepted the resignation of his newly appointed police chief, William P. Ellenburg, calling Ellenburg "a victim of unproven accusations."

Stokes named Inspector Lewis Coffey, 58, as the fourth police chief of the Stokes administration—and the second chief with little more than one week.

Stokes had called a morning news conference after returning from Detroit, where he made a personal check into allegations of a former Mafia lawyer that Ellenburg had shared in bribe money while an officer on the Detroit police force.

Stokes, who had earlier called the bribe allegations unsubstantiated said he returned from Detroit with "no new information on Mr. Ellenburg's record."

Ellenburg, who has threatened to sue both former Mafia lawyer Lawrence Burns and the Detroit Free Press, which printed Burns' allegations, resigned "in order that he might take the steps he considers necessary for the welfare of himself and his family," Stokes said.

Burns had charged that Ellenburg shared in bribes aimed at protecting a Detroit abortion clinic several years ago. Ellenburg had denied the charge, which was made less than one week after his appointment to replace ousted Cleveland Police Chief Patrick Gerity.

Ohio Soldier Killed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Spec. 4 Richard M. Mader, whose wife Sharon lives at 3046 Kensington Road, Cleveland Heights, Ohio, has been killed in action in Vietnam, the Defense Department reported Tuesday.

Ralston Purina had indicated they would buy his property which was across the alley from the plant if it were closed.

Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe stated that closing the alley would create no fire protection problems since there is an ample number of hydrants in the area.

ALSO read was an ordinance to transfer $900 within the income tax revenue department to pay rent for the income tax office.

An ordinance permitting the safety director to advertise for bids for a 1970 police cruiser was held for a third reading. Also held for third readings were legislation to permit the director of public utilities to enter into contract for engineering for a new sewerage treatment plant and one to permit the director of public utilities to advertise for bids for cast iron pipe, valves and fittings.

Pope's Order Soft-Pedaled

Dutch See Move To Discussion

AMSTERDAM (AP) — Holland's Roman Catholic bishops interpreted Pope Paul's latest pronouncement on priestly celibacy as an offer to discuss the issue and expressed their appreciation for it Tuesday night.

The eight bishops said they hoped that such consultations would lead to good results.

A brief communique said the Dutch bishops would be publishing a more detailed comment on the Pope's letter to the Vatican Secretary of State Jean Cardinal Villot. The Vatican disclosed the contents of the letter Tuesday.

Some Dutch experts said one section indicated for the first time that Pope Paul VI was trying to avoid a deadlock on the celibacy issue without altering his basic stand. They referred to the Pope's statement that he was willing to consider requests that married men of a "mature age"—or an "advanced age," as the Italian translation of the French text put it—be ordained in areas where there is "an extreme shortage of priests."

Observers at the Vatican, however, considered there was little prospect of Pope Paul approving many such ordinations. They cited his qualifying comment that "we cannot hide the fact that such an eventuality would raise grave reserve on our part."

Cincy Students To Escort Coeds

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Cincinnati today appealed to all students to be cautious, particularly when off campus, and 250 male students have set up escort services for women in the aftermath of the fatal shooting of a coed in Burnet Woods, a park adjoining the campus.

Carol Sanders, 13, of Akron, Ohio, died Saturday of two wounds in the neck by an unknown assailant as she strolled alone in the park Thursday.

Police reported still no break in the search for the assailant. They sought to question a 25-year-old white man as a possible suspect. Several women on or near campus have reported molestations in recent weeks by a man of his description.

Adjourned Session Set

Flu Bug Hits Council Members

Circleville City Council, unable to pass any legislation because two of its members were unable to attend due to illness, scheduled an adjourned session 8 p.m. Monday.

Samuel (Pete) Cook and Keith Wagner were the members of the city's legislative body who were sidelined with the flu. Because several important pieces of legislation required prompt action, the extra session was scheduled. A meeting between council and city firemen is also set for Monday.

One of the prime reasons for the extra session is an ordinance which would allow the board of public utilities to enter into a contract for engineering and construction of water and sewer lines to the Circleville RCA plant site.

RCA is to pay for the construction of the lines. Councilman David Crawford said the plant has reached the point in its construction where fire protection is needed.

THE ordinance was held to its first reading since there were not enough members present to suspend the rules and vote on passage.

Another key ordinance provided for the salary for a trained safety director. The salary was set at $11,900 for a service director who holds an engineering degree and $12,700 if he is also a licensed engineer.

Councilman Crawford noted a qualified engineer could save more than the amount of his salary in consulting fees, particularly with the construction of the sewerage disposal plant slated to start soon.

Another ordinance read for the first time created the position of chief of operations of the service department and set the salary for the position at $7,200 annually. The ordinance abolished the old post of foreman of the service department.

An ordinance to vacate an alley behind Ralston-Purina was read. Harry F. Davis, one of the signers of a petition to vacate the alley explained that it was little used. He said that

Ralston Purina had indicated they would buy his property which was across the alley from the plant if it were closed.

Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe stated that closing the alley would create no fire protection problems since there is an ample number of hydrants in the area.

ALSO read was an ordinance to transfer $900 within the income tax revenue department to pay rent for the income tax office.

An ordinance permitting the safety director to advertise for bids for a 1970 police cruiser was held for a third reading. Also held for third readings were legislation to permit the director of public utilities to enter into contract for engineering for a new sewerage treatment plant and one to permit the director of public utilities to advertise for bids for cast iron pipe, valves and fittings.

Pope's Order Soft-Pedaled

Dutch See Move To Discussion

AMSTERDAM (AP) — Holland's Roman Catholic bishops interpreted Pope Paul's latest pronouncement on priestly celibacy as an offer to discuss the issue and expressed their appreciation for it Tuesday night.

The eight bishops said they hoped that such consultations would lead to good results.

A brief communique said the Dutch bishops will consider publishing a more detailed comment on the Pope's letter to the Vatican Secretary of State Jean Cardinal Villot. The Vatican disclosed the contents of the letter Tuesday.

Some Dutch experts said one section indicated for the first time that Pope Paul VI was trying to avoid a deadlock on the celibacy issue without altering his basic stand. They referred to the Pope's statement that he was willing to consider requests that married men of a "mature age"—or an "advanced age," as the Italian translation of the French text put it—be ordained in areas where there is "an extreme shortage of priests."

Observers at the Vatican, however, considered there was little prospect of Pope Paul approving many such ordinations. They cited his qualifying comment that "we cannot hide the fact that such an eventuality would raise grave reserve on our part."

Cincy Students To Escort Coeds

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Cincinnati today appealed to all students to be cautious, particularly when off campus, and 250 male students have set up escort services for women in the aftermath of the fatal shooting of a coed in Burnet Woods, a park adjoining the campus.

Carol Sanders, 13, of Akron, Ohio, died Saturday of two wounds in the neck by an unknown assailant as she strolled alone in the park Thursday.

Police reported still no break in the search for the assailant. They sought to question a 25-year-old white man as a possible suspect. Several women on or near campus have reported molestations in recent weeks by a man of his description.

Federal Grants For Ohio Counties

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Federal grants totaling $208,217 for operation of Head Start programs in six Ohio counties were approved Tuesday by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The Highland County Community Action Organization, Hillsboro, will receive $148,644. The Northwestern Ohio Community Action Commission, anti-poverty agency for Defiance, Fulton, Henry, Paulding and Williams counties, will get $59,573.

U.S. Forces Kill 100 Reds North Of Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Americans spotted 100 North Vietnamese moving down a stream bed 21 miles north of Saigon Tuesday night, and 23 were killed by helicopter gunships, bombers and artillery, military spokesmen reported today.

No American casualties were reported, although some of the helicopters drew small-arms and rocket-grenade fire.

Military spokesmen said eight groups of North Vietnamese were spotted moving to the southwest.

"The North Vietnamese ran into a bamboo thicket," said S. Sgt. L.E. Perkins of Franklin,

La., a helicopter crewman. "The gunships fired into the thicket and the North Vietnamese started running out from everywhere."

Intelligence sources said the troops apparently were from the Dong Nai Regiment, which spearheaded an offensive against Saigon in May 1968 and was badly mauled. The sources said the regiment is still under strength and short of arms, ammunition and food, but they expect it to be active during the Tet period in the area north of Saigon.

Little other fighting was reported as Tet, the lunar new year holiday, approached. A four-day Viet Cong cease-fire is scheduled to begin at 7 a. m. Thursday—6 p.m. today, EST—and a 24-hour allied truce is to start 11 hours later.

American air cavalrymen and helicopter gunships reported killing 52 North Vietnamese soldiers in two clashes along the Cambodian border north of Saigon. No American casualties were reported.

American and South Vietnamese forces said they killed another 59 enemy troops in three clashes south of Da Nang. Two South Vietnamese soldiers were killed and two Americans and five South Vietnamese wounded.

The U.S. Command reported 31 enemy rocket and mortar attacks but said only 11 caused casualties or damage. Seven American soldiers were reported wounded, and South Vietnamese casualties were described as light.

American B52s kept up their heavy raids around the Ben Het Special Forces camp in the Central Highlands, 280 miles north of Saigon. Some 25 bombers dropped more than 1,000 tons of explosives on suspected enemy positions along the Cambodian border.

A South Vietnamese air force major was killed near Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Air base when a bomb attached to the engine of his jeep blew up as he started the vehicle. In the Mekong Delta province of Kien Phong, a terrorist bomb ripped through a market place, killing three Vietnamese and wounding 13 others.

In Hue, President Nguyen Van Thieu said he foresees eventual peace in Vietnam "because we are stronger and the Communists are weaker." Someday, he said, the Viet Cong "will fade away," and the Saigon government will have a "military, political, economic and social victory."

SHOW SELLERS — Responsible for "selling the show" for the upcoming production of Roundtown Players is the publicity committee. Planning a course of action are (seated left to right) Marilyn Ganley, Merry Andersen and Jane Resler, chairman; standing are Jean Schmachtenberger and Helen Blum. Nixon Orders U.S. Facilities To End Air, Water Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, calling the federal government "one of the nation's worst polluters," today ordered all federal facilities to eliminate air and water pollution.

He set up a $339 million program for the next three years to provide government leadership in the pollution control effort and called for all existing federal facilities to comply with his clear air and water order by Dec. 31, 1972.

Nixon said his order will affect buildings and installations, public works, aircraft and vessels and vehicles and property owned by or constructed or manufactured for the federal government.

Nixon has proclaimed improvement of the nation's environment as a prime priority of the 1970s.

And, he said in a statement issued at the White House today: "Over the past several years, the federal government has become one of the nation's worst polluters. Clearly the federal government cannot be an effective leader in the battle to save the environment so long as this intolerable situation continues."

In a move he said was aimed at getting the federal government "to sweep its own doorstep clean," Nixon issued an executive order requiring that all federal projects or installations "be designed, operated and maintained so as to conform with air and water quality standards—present and future—which are established under federal legislation."

Russell E. Train, Nixon's newly designated chairman of the Council on Environmental Quality, said that the Department of Defense is the largest single agency of government involved in pollution problems.

Train said, for example, the Military Academy at West Point will need about $3.1 million to improve its now inadequate treatment of sewage that is polluting the Hudson River in New York.

In addition to this latest directive, President Nixon plans to send a message to Congress on his plans for an environmental quality program in the next 10 days, presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said.

Questions Taxpayers Ask

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. On tax returns sent in now, about how long does it take to get a refund?

A. It normally takes 5-6 weeks if the return is accurate and complete. When a large volume of returns are received at the same time, such as near the April 15 filing deadline, it may take longer.

Taxpayers expecting a refund should have their check within 10 weeks from the time they filed or a letter explaining why it is delayed. For this reason, a taxpayer should wait 10 weeks before contacting IRS about a refund which has not been received.

Q. All my income is from wages. Will I need any other forms besides the 1040?

A. Nearly half of all taxpayers will just file the one-page Form 1040. However, if you itemize deductions or have income from other sources, such as property sales, rents, pensions, etc., you must attach the supporting schedules for these items.

The back of the Form 1040 in your tax package indicates when a schedule will be necessary. An estimated 22 million taxpayers will need to add only one schedule to their Form 1040.

Q. Is insurance compensation for injuries received in an auto accident taxable?

A. No, compensation for injuries suffered in an accident are tax free.

Q. What records should you keep when you are claiming someone as a dependent?

A. Your records should indicate the total cost of the dependent's support and the amount that you provided. Also, you would have to show whether the dependent meets the other dependency tests.

Q. Can anyone use the envelope in the tax form package or just those expecting a refund?

A. The envelope is provided for your convenience and should be used whether you are expecting a refund or not.

Q. There is a mistake on the label that came with my tax package. How should I correct it?

A. Make a correction in name and address on the label itself. If the Social Security number is wrong, cross out the number on the label and enter the correct number in the box provided at the top of the form.

Put the corrected label on the return you file so that your return will be properly identified and the needed correction can be made in IRS records.

Q. I need a car for use on my job. How do I handle the expenses for tax purposes?

A. You may either deduct your actual operating expenses for the business use of the car or 10 cents for every mile of actual business use up to 15,000 miles. Mileage over 15,000 may be deducted at 7 cents a mile. Tolls, parking and similar expenses may be added to the mileage deduction.

If you use the actual expense method, you may include depreciation, gas and oil, insurance, repairs and other operating costs. However, if you use the same car for business and personal travel, you must apportion the operating expenses. For example, on a car used half for business, just the operating expenses may be deducted.

Q. I'm all set to file my return but my W-2 hasn't come yet. What should I do?

A. Wait until your W-2 arrives. The law requires employers to issue tax withholding statements to employees by January 31 so you should receive the statement shortly.

If you don't get your W-2 statement by the end of January, ask your employer about it.

Deaths

MRS. MYRTLE ROOT RICE

Mrs. Myrtle Root Rice, 71, a former resident of Circleville, died Sunday in Ocala, Florida, where she resided. She was a furniture dealer here.

Mrs. Rice was born Sept. 8, 1898, in Pickaway County, the daughter of Elmer and Ella Sells Root.

Teays Valley Begins Evaluation Program

Teays Valley High School will begin a review today for accreditation by a North Central Evaluation Committee.

Heading the review committee is Richard Snouffer, past principal of Circleville High School, now principal of the Delaware-Hayes High School in Delaware. He is chairman of the 36 member evaluation team which will spend Wednesday and Thursday visiting classrooms and working in individual subject areas with the Teays Valley faculty to determine the weaknesses and strong points of the school's curriculum and its standing in the community.

Demos Dislike HEW Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has offered to sweeten the pot by $449 million in his fight with Congress over education funds, but it apparently won't be enough.

Democratic leaders are willing to risk another veto, if necessary, in their effort to force a reshuffling of national priorities that upgrades education.

"It may be necessary to pare it down," said House Majority Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma, "but we're not going to capitulate on the education bill."

Nixon's new proposal, sent to Congress Tuesday, makes official a compromise he put forward last week to help get the necessary votes to sustain his veto of a $19.7 billion education-health money bill.

The $449 million Nixon is now willing to spend over his budget amounts to a 63 per cent cut in the $1.2 billion Congress added to the vetoed bill. Some of the key Democrats who helped add the original funds, say they will fight any cut that amounts to more than 10 per cent.

The battle is now being fought in a House appropriations subcommittee where little progress was reported Tuesday after another session. Members said there was only an outside chance that a bill would be ready for House action before Congress takes a week-long recess starting Feb. 10.

In a letter outlining his new proposal Nixon said the extra $449 million "does not contribute unduly to inflationary pressures which today are of serious concern to the entire nation." He vetoed the $1.2 billion increase because of its impact on inflation.

Nearly half the added funds—$238 million—would be for the impacted area aid program which Nixon has sharply criticized and for which he has declined to budget any money for next year unless it is drastically revised. His new proposal would increase the appropriation for the year to $440 million.

Workers Picket

New Stadium

At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Striking Cincinnati city workers picketed today at the new riverfront stadium which is under construction.

They called off, however, a planned second coffee-drinking sit-in at a downtown restaurant.

Work at the stadium has been curtailed because of severe cold but carpenters and electricians, employed by private contractors declined to cross the city workers' picket line. The temperature was one below zero when the picket lines were established.

The stadium construction time table calls for it to be completed in time for the major league All-Star game in mid-July. The Cincinnati Reds are planning to start play there by the end of June.

Tower Destruction

Case Is Decided

A final decision was made Tuesday afternoon in the case of Molly Certain, 905 S. Clinton St., for the destruction of a radio tower owned by Larry Mets.

Mrs. Certain was indicted by the September, 1969, term of the grand jury for malicious destruction of property, valued at $400 by Mets. A petit jury hearing early in January failed to reach a decision on the case.

County prosecutor Roy Huffer Jr. agreed to reduce the value of the antennae to less than $100, making the charge a misdemeanor. Judge Ammer found her guilty of the charge and placed Mrs. Certain on probation for one year.

funds for school districts in which large numbers of children of federal employees are enrolled, has wide support in Congress. A total of $600 million was provided for in the vetoed bill.

Nixon would also boost spending for vocational education by $70 million to a new total of $300 million, still $52 million short of the amount in the bill. The other Nixon increases would be spread over a variety of health and education programs.

Israelis Think War Danger Less Than Last Summer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israeli military sources claim there is less likelihood of a major Middle East war developing now than last summer when air and land battles broke out along the Suez Canal.

These sources regard the Soviet Union's warning to the United States and other Western powers as a ploy designed to back up Arab morale.

Though concerned about any additional Russian aid to Egypt, they discount the idea that it would impel the Arabs into any major thrust. They also discount the possibility of any direct Soviet intervention in the war.

Despite the re-equipping of the Egyptian army and air force and the guidance of about 3,000 Soviet advisers, the Israelis said, the battles of the past seven months have demonstrated the Egyptians are not ready to undertake any big offensive.

The Israeli military sources claimed the Russians have given Egypt about $2 billion in arms and equipment since the forces of President Gamel Abdel Nasser lost much of their Soviet-provided gear in the six-day war of 1967.

But the Russians haven't yet been able to get the Egyptians to use their weapons and material effectively, the Israelis said. They praised the Soviet equipment as first rate.

The Israeli military men indicated both sides have learned from the fighting, which has raged more or less continuously since last July, though on a limited scale. But they sounded confident the advantage still is with their pilots and ground fighters by a wide margin.

The Israelis said the Russians now do most of the operational planning for the Egyptians, as well as manning certain of the sophisticated equipment.

No Russians have flown combat in the Suez Canal air battles, they said. But they indicated a belief that Russians are present in surface-to-air missile sites. This raised the possibility some Soviet advisers could have been killed in Israeli strikes against such sites.

The Israeli military sources implied they are far from impressed by the kind of tactics taught by the Russians to the Egyptians.

Stock Boom Loses Bloom

NEW YORK (AP) — A stock market rally that began late Tuesday and continued in early trading today began losing its bloom in moderately active volume this afternoon.

Advances, ahead of declines by nearly 400 issues earlier, began losing ground, while the Dow Jones industrial average, up nearly 3 points in early trading, dipped 0.79 to 756.67 at noon.

A statement Tuesday by Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy that interest rates might be lowered sooner than people realized was credited with triggering the strong rally.

Whereas analysts saw the remarks as encouraging, they added that it might be some time before such credit restraints, long a major market depressant, were eased.

Fifteen of the New York Stock Exchange's 20 most-active issues were losing ground in midday trading, 3 were on the climb, and 2 were unchanged. Computer Science, off 1 1/2 to 29, topped the active list on a noon-time volume of 107,700 shares.

Showing strength in midday trading were steels, electronics, chemicals, rails, and building materials. Rubber issues, aircrafts and farm implements were weaker, and motors, utilities, metals, oils, airlines, tobaccos, and drugs were mixed.

American Stock Exchange issues were losing ground around noon, with 15 of the 20 most-active issues on the decline and 5 ahead.

Aerospace Work Force Cut Down

NEW YORK (AP) — With government budget cuts dipping the wings of many companies in the aerospace industry, layoffs of workers are mounting.

The Aerospace Industries Association says total employment declined from 1,418,000 at the end of 1968 to 1,333,000 at the end of 1969, and payroll pruning has continued this year.

The biggest toll has been among production workers, but scientists, engineers and clerical workers have been laid off, too.

Northeast Tuesday night as the third major outbreak of severe cold in a month swept across the Appalachians and down the Eastern seaboard.

Temperatures dove into the low 20s, and lower, in northern Florida. Pensacola residents awoke to an icy 22-degree chill. It was 19 in Crestview, 23 in Tallahassee and 25 at Gainesville.

The mercury settled near zero in northern fringes of the Deep South states. Atlanta recorded 10 shortly before daybreak. Jackson, Miss., had a low of 13, some 30 degrees colder than Denver in the central Rockies.

Rain, then snow, fell in the Northeast Tuesday night as the third major outbreak of severe cold in a month swept across the Appalachians and down the Eastern seaboard.

Strong, gusty winds preceded and accompanied the sharply falling temperatures. Gusts near 70 miles an hour lashed Boston, where the temperature set a record for Feb. 3 earlier Tuesday with a high of 58. The reading surpassed by 5 degrees a record dating back to 1877.

Milder weather fanned the cold out of a widening section of the midcontinent. Readings were up to 20 degrees warmer than a day earlier in the central Plains.

Light snow and occasional strong winds caused some drifting in parts of the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Generally mild weather prevailed in the Far West. Light rain or snow was scattered through the Northwest.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 25 below zero at Pellston, Mich., to 60 at San Diego, Calif.

Man Sentenced To Reformatory

Daniel Charles Gentzel, 20, Lancaster Pike, was found guilty of one of two charges pending against him in Common Pleas Court Tuesday afternoon.

Gentzel was sentenced to Mansfield reformatory for 1-7 years for grand larceny stemming from the burglary of a Williamsport Deercreek Auto Parts Oct. 18, 1969. Charges of breaking and entering were dropped against him.

Gentzel was arrested with three other boys, 18-year-old Duane Drum and two 17-year-old youths. Total value of property stolen was $1,025.

Nixon Orders U.S. Facilities To End Air, Water Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, calling the federal government "one of the nation's worst polluters," today ordered all federal facilities to eliminate air and water pollution.

He set up a $359 million program for the next three years to provide government leadership in the pollution control effort and called for all existing federal facilities to comply with his clear air and water order by Dec. 31, 1972.

Though concerned about any additional Russian aid to Egypt, they discount the idea that it would impel the Arabs into any major thrust. They also discount the possibility of any direct Soviet intervention in the war.

Despite the re-equipping of the Egyptian army and air force and the guidance of about 3,000 Soviet advisers, the Israelis said, the battles of the past seven months have demonstrated the Egyptians are not ready to undertake any big offensive.

The Israeli military sources claimed the Russians have given Egypt about $2 billion in arms and equipment since the forces of President Gamel Abdel Nasser lost much of their Soviet-provided gear in the six-day war of 1967.

But the Russians haven't yet been able to get the Egyptians to use their weapons and material effectively, the Israelis said. They praised the Soviet equipment as first rate.

The Israeli military men indicated both sides have learned from the fighting, which has raged more or less continuously since last July, though on a limited scale. But they sounded confident the advantage still is with their pilots and ground fighters by a wide margin.

The Israelis said the Russians now do most of the operational planning for the Egyptians, as well as manning certain of the sophisticated equipment.

No Russians have flown combat in the Suez Canal air battles, they said. But they indicated a belief that Russians are present in surface-to-air missile sites. This raised the possibility some Soviet advisers could have been killed in Israeli strikes against such sites.

The Israeli military sources implied they are far from impressed by the kind of tactics taught by the Russians to the Egyptians.

Maddox Urges Fight Against School Ruling

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Lester Maddox has been urging Georgia teachers to refuse transfer under integration plans and the seven schools in Washington County closed today as a result of a walkout by white teachers.

The seat of the predominantly rural county, Sandersville, some 100 miles southeast of Atlanta, has been the scene of a series of racial shootings. Blacks have been demonstrating against what they say are unfair employment practices in the county and neglect of black neighborhoods by government agencies.

Fifty state troopers and other law enforcement agents remain in the town of 6,500, where an 11 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew is in effect.

Maddox plans to address a rally there Sunday in favor of letting pupils attend the schools of their choice.

Elsewhere in the South: In Louisiana, the De Soto Parish school district planned to open classes today under an integration plan, but a black pupil boycott continued in Iberville Parish over the shift of two white principals to previously black schools.

School officials in Mississippi's largest district, Jackson, were still working out details of a plan to go into effect Friday. Teachers in the 55 Jackson schools are being transferred to achieve a 60-40 white to black ratio in each.

More than 800 persons in Darlington, S.C., have voted to organize a fight against the court-ordered desegregation of Darlington County schools.

Florida Gov. Claude Kirk has threatened to withhold state funds earmarked for busing by school districts.

Workers Picket New Stadium At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Striking Cincinnati city workers picketed today at the new riverfront stadium which is under construction.

They called off, however, a "labeled second coffee-drinking sit-in at a downtown restaurant."

Work at the stadium has been curtailed because of severe cold but carpenters and electricians, employed by private contractors, declined to cross the city workers' picket line. The temperature was one below zero when the picket lines were established.

The stadium construction time table calls for it to be completed in time for the major league All-Star game in mid-July. The Cincinnati Reds are planning to start play there by the end of June.

Tower Destruction Case Is Decided

A final decision was made Tuesday afternoon in the case of Molly Certain, 905 S. Clinton St., for the destruction of a radio tower owned by Larry Mets.

Mrs. Certain was indicted by the September, 1969, term of the grand jury for malicious destruction of property, valued at $400 by Mets. A petit jury hearing early in January failed to reach a decision on the case.

County prosecutor Roy Huffer Jr. agreed to reduce the value of the antennae to less than $100, making the charge a misdemeanor. Judge Ammer found her guilty of the charge and placed Mrs. Certain on probation for one year.

Deaths

MRS. MYRTLE ROOT RICE

Mrs. Myrtle Root Rice, 71, a former resident of Circleville, died Sunday in Ocala, Florida, where she resided. She was a furniture dealer here.

Mrs. Rice was born Sept. 8, 1898, in Pickaway County, the daughter of Elmer and Ella Sells Root.

Surviving are her husband, George D. Rice, and nieces and nephews.

The Defenbaugh Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Graveside services will be 10:30 a.m. Friday in Forest Cemetery.

MR. CHARLES HUTCHISON

Mr. Charles Hutchison, 85, formerly of Circleville, died 5:05 p.m. Tuesday at the Gospel Light Nursing Home, Kingston.

Born Aug. 19, 1884, in Vinton County, he was the son of John and Nancy Wolfe Hutchison.

His wife Maude Simmons Hutchison, died May 2, 1964.

He is survived by three sons, Ray, Columbus; Max, South Solon; Estell, Orient; two daughters, Mrs. Benson Morrow, Columbus; Mrs. William Armstrong, Route 4; Chillicothe; eight grandchildren.

Funeral services will be 1:30 p.m. Friday in Defenbaugh Funeral Home. Burial will be in Mt. Carmel Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning noon Thursday.

Teays Valley Begins Evaluation Program

Teays Valley High School will begin a review today for accreditation by a North Central Evaluation Committee.

Heading the review committee is Richard Snouffer, past principal of Circleville High School, now principal of the Delaware-Hayes High School in Delaware. He is chairman of the 36 member evaluation team which will spend Wednesday and Thursday visiting classrooms and working in individual subject areas with the Teays Valley faculty to determine the weaknesses and strong points of the school's curriculum and its standing in the community.

Warmer Air

Northeast Tuesday night as the third major outbreak of severe cold in a month swept across the Appalachians and down the Eastern seaboard.

Temperatures dipped into the low 20s, and lower, in northern Florida. Pensacola residents awoke to an icy 22-degree chill. It was 19 in Crestview, 23 in Tallahassee and 25 at Gainesville.

The mercury settled near zero in northern fringes of the Deep South states. Atlanta recorded 10 shortly before daybreak. Jackson, Miss., had a low of 13, some 30 degrees colder than Denver in the central Rockies.

Rain, then snow, fell in the Northeast Tuesday night as the third major outbreak of severe cold in a month swept across the Appalachians and down the Eastern seaboard.

Strong, gusty winds preceded and accompanied the sharply falling temperatures. Gusts near 70 miles an hour lashed Boston, where the temperature set a record for Feb. 3 earlier Tuesday with a high of 58. The reading surpassed by 5 degrees a record dating back to 1877.

Milder weather fanned the cold out of a widening section of the midcontinent. Readings were up to 20 degrees warmer than a day earlier in the central plains.

Light snow and occasional strong winds caused some drifting in parts of the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Generally mild weather prevailed in the Far West. Light rain or snow was scattered through the Northwest.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 25 below zero at Pellston, Mich., to 60 at San Diego, Calif.

Man Sentenced To Reformatory

David Charles Gentzel, 20, Lancaster Pike, was found guilty of one of two charges pending against him in Common Pleas Court Tuesday afternoon.

Gentzel was sentenced to Mansfield reformatory for 1-7 years for grand larceny stemming from the burglary of the Williamsport Deercreek Auto Parts Oct. 18, 1969. Charges of breaking and entering were dropped against him.

Gentzel was arrested with three other boys, 18-year-old Duane Drum and two 17-year-old youths. Total value of property stolen was $1,025.

Crash Victim's Husband Unhurt In Accident

Charles Lambert, 21, the husband of Sharon Lambert, who was killed in an accident early Saturday morning west of Circleville, was involved in an auto accident Monday night in Fayette County.

He escaped injury when the car he was driving careened off the road and plunged into a water-filled ditch.

According to the report of the Fayette County Sheriff's Department, Lambert's car allegedly went out of control on a patch of ice, slid off the pavement, struck a fence, slid down a steep ditch and overturned, coming to rest on its top in the water-filled ditch. The car was demolished and six rods of fence was destroyed.

Aerospace Work Force Cut Down

NEW YORK (AP) — With government budget cuts dipping the wings of many companies in the aerospace industry, layoffs of workers are mounting.

The Aerospace Industries Association says total employment declined from 1,418,000 at the end of 1968 to 1,333,000 at the end of 1969, and payroll pruning has continued this year.

The biggest toll has been among production workers, but scientists, engineers and clerical workers have been laid off, too.

Franchise Growth

There have been few commercial revolutions in American history as successful as the franchising industries. Now accounting for 10 per cent of the total American business volume, franchised establishments can be found in almost every line of endeavor, although they are largely concentrated in a few such as quick food enterprises.

The concept is not new. Some automotive service stations have operated under the same general principle for many years. But the growth of the franchise industries in recent years has been nothing short of fantastic.

Most of these enterprises are legitimate business arrangements. Some have been accused of shortcutting ethical considerations, particularly in arrangements with franchisees. It would not be surprising to find unscrupulous operators in any field which has expanded as rapidly and with as little regulation as this one has.

The franchise industry is vulnerable, as testimony to the Senate Small Business subcommittee has indicated. Action to safeguard the interests of all against the quick buck, fly-by-night operator is due.

Crusade Against Immorality

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

When Barry Goldwater, running for President in 1964, started talking about crime in the streets, he thought he had a good issue. But he was just four years ahead of his time.

Today, as the candidates for office in 1970 begin their campaigns, there is a race to pre-empt the tag of being the most unequivocal enemy, in any given district, city or state, of the moral monsters who seem to be swarming over the land. And, as the campaigns warm up, the unthinkable will be thought, the inadmissible will be admitted and the unspeakable will be spoken. Mafia characters will be dragged out into the cold light of day, the police will start going after vandals, timid school superintendents will do more than admit to themselves that they have a terrifying drug problem on their hands, and parents who have been trying alone to cope with troubles with their rebellious offspring will find themselves attending mass meetings to consider their predicament.

In New York State there has been a virtual conspiracy of silence about drug addiction in the schools. If Democratic mayoral candidate Mario Procaccino or Republican John Marchi had really gone to town on this subject last fall, they might have succeeded in bouncing Mayor John Lindsay out of New York's City Hall. Suddenly, coming from nowhere, the name of State Assembly Speaker Perry B. Duryea, a Republican from the Montauk end of Long Island, is being mentioned wherever the politicians are talking about possible candidates for Governor or, by any chance, Nelson Rockefeller should move on to Washington as, say, Secretary of State. Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

WHENEVER it rains, Mrs. Hornfoot, a housekeeper of the old school, meticulously covers the floor of every room in her triplex with newspapers. "These are the Times," she explains, "that dry men's souls."

Snatching a bite at the airport restaurant before boarding a plane for the mountains, a lady summoned her waitress and said, "I haven't much time, so I'd appreciate a check now."

"But, madam," exclaimed the surprised waitress, "wasn't that your husband sitting opposite you? I put your charges on his tab!"

"Goodness," said the lady, "I never saw the poor man before in my life."

"Sorry," concluded the waitress, "but I took it for granted you were married; you didn't say a word to each other!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I am overwhelmed by the number of letters that come to me from all over the world from women who live in terror about cancer of the breast. One woman from Chicago wrote a poignant letter in which she said, "Every morning and every night of my life I thoroughly examine myself, seeking a lump in my breast. I know it has wrought havoc on my life, and yet my fear grows worse, and I do not know where to turn for some sense of peace." This is a sad story and is probably one of the greatest penalties all of us pay, because we have been bombarded by statistics of death and destruction that are more fearsome than real. I hardly pass a day in the practice of medicine without seeing the terror-stricken male or female of any age group who is depressed with the gloom of prophecy about impending disease of cancer, heart disease, brain tumor, leukemia and any other disastrous disease they can create.

Why does such unnecessary havoc to our inner peace flourish in a medical world that has given us all so many additional years of good health? It is a paradox and it is sad that such anxiety exists and destroys the gentler joys of living, mostly because the fears remain unexpressed. Many patients actually stay away from their doctor because they are "afraid of hearing what he will say." This means that their fears are so deeply ingrained in them that they cannot believe there is any chance that the doctor will find nothing to concern them.

Now this lady must continue to feel her body for lumps for the rest of her life and never find them. Yet a small lump may be present and may be a cystic change in the breast that so frequently happens in adult females, especially those during their menstrual phases or even during the menopause. But how can she possibly convince herself that anything she feels is not a cancer? It is obvious that this woman is in a trap from which she cannot extricate herself without the help of an understanding physician. He will do the examining at the intervals that he thinks are necessary and at the same time give her the reassurance that she needs for a peaceful existence.

Many new methods are now available for the early recognition of tumors, cysts and other types of thickening that so frequently happen in breast tissue.

When there is the slightest suspicion or concern, a small piece of tissue can be painlessly removed for examination and studied under the microscope. Fluid can be removed from cysts and immediately examined for unusual cells.

A most remarkable new technique is known as mamography by which the soft breast tissue is studied by X-ray. By a special method, a very thin exposure of X-ray can show if a suspicious growth deserves concern. Specialists in this type of examination can, with almost consistent certainty, tell the patient if there is a suspicious tumor or a benign cyst.

Women who live in a constant world of concern must take the first step to inner peace by speaking out their anxiety with their physician and then give up their daily minute inspection of their bodies. Let your doctor be your guide to physical and emotional security.

Keep good health as a prize possession. Pamper it.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Feb. 4, the 35th day of 1970. There are 330 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1789, George Washington was elected the first president of the United States.

On this date, during the American Revolution, American troops occupied New York City.

In 1783, hostilities ended between the United States and England.

In 1861, the confederacy was formed in Montgomery, Ala.

In 1887, the Interstate Commerce Commission was established.

In 1901, a campaign to wipe out yellow fever in Cuba was begun by Maj. William C. Gorgas of the U.S. Army.

In 1948, Ceylon became a free, self-governing dominion of the British empire.

Ten years ago — Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan arrived in Cuba to open a Soviet exhibition.

Five years ago — France's President Charles de Gaulle called for a return to the gold standard in the international monetary system. The United States rejected the idea.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNNEIFF

NEW YORK (AP)—In the 1970s, said the speaker, "the company with the reputation for seeking sales at the expense of public service and for building corporate profits at the expense of social progress will be rejected."

He continued: "The company that appears to have no conscience may be the company that winds up with no customers."

If those words had come from one of the growing number of consumer advocates it might have sounded like a threat that couldn't be fulfilled, like sour grapes or like energy expended on rhetoric instead of action.

The speaker, however, was John J. Riccardo, the new president of Chrysler Corp., fifth largest seller of industrial products in America, a company that occupies 100 million square feet of work space in 16 nations. Automotive companies, it is safe to say, have been among those which the public has felt were most aggressive about sales and building corporate profits, and perhaps among the more negligent about environment and services.

That the need for change should be so clearly stated is good news for consumers, for a study might show the damage to human health from the irritation and frustration of seeking quality automotive service to be as great as that from some new virus.

Recognition of the automotive service problem was given recently by the National Better Business Bureau, which set up what it calls the BBB Hot Line to deliver complaints directly to Detroit.

The service, which also provides for the automotive firms to send BBB a disposition report on all such complaints, goes to the heart of the business establishment rather than to its fringe.

For many years, it appears, it was assumed by some consumer watchdogs that violations of agreements, poor quality and renegeing on services were largely the work of itinerant peddlers, window salesmen and other doorbell ringers.

In setting up hotline, the BBB puts its finger on one of the chief reasons for the growing number of complaints when it states:

"In the automotive industry . . . the number of motor vehicles on the road increased 91 per cent between 1950 and 1966, but the number of mechanics increased only 21 per cent. This shortage of competent technical personnel has resulted in a heavy workload, particularly at dealerships."

Most critics would say the problem is more complex, but the spreading disparity between the numbers of mechanics and cars does indicate the problems facing automotive manufacturers in the next decade.

In seeking to expedite complaints, BBB hopes that complaints will be handled first at the local bureau and dealer level. If results cannot be obtained, the complaint then is referred to the national bureau.

The National Better Business Bureau then puts the problem directly before a high ranking corporate executive at American, Chrysler, Ford or General Motors, asks for action and requests a report on the action taken.

"The success of the program depends on the quality of the unresolved complaints referred to these top officials," BBB explains. "Only serious problems that cannot be settled at lower levels should be routed through this channel."

Early results have been good, and, viewed more broadly, the hot line does breach what some car owners have long thought was an impenetrable fortress. It is this, rather than the quantity of complaints, that appears to be important.

NEW YORK (AP) — Every period of human life is like a Christmas tree—it has its good side and its bad side.

This month, while the rest of America will be celebrating the birthdays of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington, I'll be figuratively lighting a birthday cake of my own, one lit by a bonfire of 59 candles.

"How many did you say, Harold—59? Why, you don't look a year over 58. And if you took off 30 or 35 pounds, you probably wouldn't look over 57."

Well, thanks everybody, thanks. There's nothing like a kind word to lift the human spirit.

Naturally, I suppose you all want to know how I feel about being 59. Well, I feel pretty much like the fellow in a story Abraham Lincoln used to like to tell.

This man had been tarred and feathered and ridden out of town by a group of citizens he had unintentionally offended. As he was plucking the tar and feathers off himself, one lone sympathizer asked him how he felt.

"Well," said the victim ruefully, "if it weren't for the prestige, I'd just as soon have skipped the whole experience."

Becoming 59 isn't so bad in itself. What makes it memorable is that it means you are entering your 60th year of life, and that does kind of pull a fellow up short.

There are certain birthdays that make a person want to lie down and cry. With a maiden lady it is her 30th; with a man it's his 40th. With a married woman it's the year in which her last child leaves home.

The beginning of one's 60th year is also a kind of personal landmark for anybody. To reverse a common figure of speech, it is a time when he can begin to see the darkness at the end of the tunnel.

It is a time when he first really realizes—and it comes with the blow of an inner thunderclap—that he will never do again as many things as he has done before. He doesn't have that many years left.

It is a time for stocktaking and inventory. Does he need an operation or some dental work done? Better do them now, while his company's health program will help pay the medical bills.

It is time for him to read the fine print in his life and accident insurance policies and see if there are any changes to be made.

It is time for him to study his pension program. If it looks inadequate, he'll have to quit hanging around pool halls and start saving more money.

Following his last performance at the Palace Theater in Columbus, Ted Lewis and his wife were honored at an informal family get together at the Friedman family on E. Mound St. hosted by brother, Milton.

Arthur H. Phillips, S. Court St., left for New York City and a two-month training course as a traffic manager for American Airways.

At A & P Co. a large head of lettuce cost eight cents; two dozen Florida oranges 29 cents; pascal celery, 2 bunches for 19 cents; pork loin roast, 17 cents a pound and pork chops, 23 cents per pound.

"The Hurricane," in the New American Hotel, featured a steak — as only Oliver could cook it.

Monday Club, the largest and most active cultural organization of women in Pickaway County, celebrated its 50th anniversary. Committee members to draft a constitution for the club were Mrs. Howard Jones, Mrs. Myra Ballard and Miss Ella Drum.

Closing one of its best years, the Pickaway County Farm Bureau totaled its cooperative business slightly under $2,000,000 in all its various phases of merchandising farm produce. Livestock sales were the biggest item of the year, totaling $1,107,658 for the 14,682,990 pounds sold.

Peter L. Johnson, operator of the Ashville Mop Co., died at his home, 105 E. Main St., Ashville, at the age of 47.

The Circleville board of health reaffirmed its decree to padlock the city jail unless council did something about the unsanitary conditions.

C. F. Seitz at 134 W. Main St. had in stock the Hit Parade leaders which included Careless, All the Things You Are, Indian Summer, Faithful Forever and Oh, Johnny, Oh.

Mrs. Mary Kuhns, 65, and her daughter, Veronica, 28, were killed in a gas explosion in their home at 118 High St.

A Roller Derby, sponsored by Coca Cola, was held every Tuesday night at Gold Cliff Rink.

Harold Smith and Patty Bennett were crowned King and Queen of Hearts at the annual Valentine Ball of Circleville Junior Senior Girl Reserves.

Four boxing bouts, all of three rounds, were staged in the rear of Stone's Grill. Norman Aronson was promoter, Ralph Wallace, referee. Four County competitors were Matthew Grubb, Jimmy O'Hara, Dempsey Patrick and Roy Birchwell.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Heidelberg Evangelical and Reformed Church of Stoutsville, observed its 50th anniversary.

Franchise Growth

There have been few commercial revolutions in American history as successful as the franchising industries. Now accounting for 10 per cent of the total American business volume, franchised establishments can be found in almost every line of endeavor, although they are largely concentrated in a few such as quick food enterprises.

The concept is not new. Some automotive service stations have operated under the same general principle for many years. But the growth of the franchise industries in recent years has been nothing short of fantastic.

Most of these enterprises are legitimate business arrangements. Some have been accused of shortcutting ethical considerations, particularly in arrangements with franchisees. It would not be surprising to find unscrupulous operators in any field which has expanded as rapidly and with as little regulation as this one has.

The franchise industry is vulnerable, as testimony to the Senate Small Business subcommittee has indicated. Action to safeguard the interests of all against the quick buck, fly-by-night operator is due.

Crusade Against Immorality

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
When Barry Goldwater, running for President in 1964, started talking about crime in the streets, he thought he had a good issue. But he was just four years ahead of his time.

Today, as the candidates for office in 1970 begin their campaigns, there is a race to pre-empt the tag of being the most unequivocal enemy, in any given district, city or state, of the moral monsters who seem to be swarming over the land. And, as the campaigns warm up, the unthinkable will be thought, the inadmissible will be admitted and the unspeakable will be spoken. Mafia characters will be dragged out into the cold light of day, the police will start going after vandals, timid school superintendents will do more than admit to themselves that they have a terrifying drug problem on their hands, and parents who have been trying alone to cope with troubles with their rebellious offspring will find themselves attending mass meetings to consider their predicament.

In New York State there has been a virtual conspiracy of silence about drug addiction in the schools. If Democratic mayoral candidate Mario Procaccino or Republican John Marchi had really gone to town on this subject last fall, they might have succeeded in bouncing Mayor John Lindsay out of New York's City Hall. Suddenly, coming from nowhere, the name of State Assembly Speaker Perry B. Duryea, a Republican from the Montauk end of Long Island, is being mentioned wherever the politicians are talking about possible candidates for Governor if, by any chance, Nelson Rockefeller should move on to Washington as, say, Secretary of State. One of the reasons for Duryea's sudden emergence as a big figure in his party is his willingness to face up to the drug issue. He is convinced, he says, that in his home community some eighty per cent of the high school students have experimented with marijuana. Duryea wants special legislation to cover the treatment of school-age drug addicts.

In Connecticut it was being generally said a year ago that U.S. Senator Tom Dodd, who had been censured by his colleagues for alleged misuse of campaign funds, would have little chance for renomination, let alone re-election, in 1970. But Dodd, who was recently cleared by the Internal Revenue Service of charges of income tax violation, has seized the issue of violence in the schools as a prime issue, and, as chairman of a Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency, he is in a better position than any of his rivals to go gunning for moral monsters in newspaper headlines and on TV. Dodd has been telling the citizens of the Connecticut State capital of Hartford that their local school bill for vandalism and burglaries in the academic year of 1968-69 came to $170,000. To soothe any ruffled regional sensibilities, Dodd also points out that Chicago's problems are worse than Hartford's. Between 1964 and 1968 the reported assaults on Chicago teachers jumped from around a hundred to more than a thousand. Dodd's presumed opponents for the Senatorial nomination — State Senate Majority Leader Ed Marcus and the Reverend Joseph Duffy, head of Americans for Democratic Action — would assuredly concede nothing to Dodd in this matter of deploring juvenile violence and narcotics addiction. But the point is that Dodd can beat them to the punch when it comes to giving chapter and verse taken from the hearings of his own Washington subcommittee.

"Goodness," said the lady, "I never saw the poor man before in my life."

"Sorry," concluded the waitress, "but I took it for granted you were married; you didn't say a word to each other!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I am overwhelmed by the number of letters that come to me from all over the world from women who live in terror about cancer of the breast. One woman from Chicago wrote a poignant letter in which she said, "Every morning and every night of my life I thoroughly examine myself. I know it has wrought havoc on my life, and yet my fear grows worse, and I do not know where to turn for some sense of peace." This is a sad story and is probably one of the greatest tragedies of our day, because we have been bombarded by statistics of death and destruction that are more fearsome than real. I hardly pass a day in the practice of medicine without seeing the terror-stricken male or female of any age group who is depressed with the gloom of prophecy about impending disease of cancer, heart disease, brain tumor, leukemia and any other disastrous disease they can create.

Why does such unnecessary havoc to our inner peace flourish in a medical world that has given us all so many additional years of good health? It is a paradox and it is sad that such anxiety exists and destroys the gentler joys of living, mostly because the fears remain unexpressed. Many patients actually stay away from their doctor because they are "afraid of hearing what he will say." This means that their fears are so deeply ingrained in them that they cannot believe there is any chance that the doctor will find nothing to concern them.

Now this lady must continue to feel her body for lumps for the rest of her life and never find them. Yet a small lump may be present and may be a cystic change in the breast that so frequently happens in adult females, especially those during their menstrual phases or even during the menopause. But how can she possibly convince herself that anything she feels is not a cancer? It is obvious that this woman is in a trap from which she cannot extricate herself without the help of an understanding physician. He will do the examining at the intervals that he thinks are necessary and at the same time give her the reassurance that she needs for a peaceful existence.

Many new methods are now available for the early recognition of tumors, cysts and other types of thickening that so frequently happen in breast tissue.

When there is the slightest suspicion or concern, a small piece of tissue can be painlessly removed for examination and studied under the microscope. Fluid can be removed from cysts and immediately examined for unusual cells.

A most remarkable new technique is known as mamography by which the soft breast tissue is studied by X-ray. By a special method, a very tiny exposure of X-ray can show if a suspicious growth deserves concern. Specialists in this type of examination can, with almost consistent certainty, tell the patient if there is a suspicious tumor or a benign cyst.

Women who live in a constant world of concern must take the first step to inner peace by speaking out their anxiety with their physician and then give up their daily minute inspection of their bodies. Let your doctor be your guide to physical and emotional security.

Keep good health as a prime possession. Pamper it.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP)— In the 1970s, said the speaker, "the company with the reputation for seeking sales at the expense of public service and for building corporate profits at the expense of social progress will be rejected."

He continued: "The company that appears to have no conscience may be the company that winds up with no customers."

If those words had come from one of the growing number of consumer advocates it might have sounded like a threat that couldn't be fulfilled, like sour grapes or like energy expended on rhetoric instead of action.

The speaker, however, was John J. Riccardi, the new president of Chrysler Corp., fifth largest seller of industrial products in America, a company that occupies 100 million square feet of work space in 16 nations. Automotive companies, it is safe to say, have been among those which the public has felt were most aggressive about sales and building corporate profits, and perhaps among more negligent about environment and services.

That the need for change should be so clearly stated is good news for consumers, for a study might show the damage to human health from the irritation and frustration of seeking quality automotive service to be as great as that from some new virus.

Recognition of the automotive service problem was given recently by the National Better Business Bureau, which set up what it calls the BBB Hot Line to deliver complaints directly to Detroit.

The service, which also provides for the automotive firms to send BBB a disposition report on all such complaints, goes to the heart of the business establishment rather than to its fringe. For many years, it appears, it was assumed by some consumer watchdogs that violations of agreements, poor quality and renegeing on services were largely the work of itinerant peddlers, window salesmen and other doorbell ringers.

In setting up hotline, the BBB puts its finger on one of the chief reasons for the growing number of complaints when it states:

"In the automotive industry . . . the number of motor vehicles on the road increased 91 per cent between 1950 and 1966, but the number of mechanics increased only 21 per cent. This shortage of competent technical personnel has resulted in a heavy workload, particularly at dealerships."

Most critics would say the problem is more complex, but the spreading disparity between the numbers of mechanics and cars does indicate the problems facing automotive manufacturers in the next decade.

In seeking to expedite complaints, BBB hopes that complaints will be handled first at the local bureau and dealer level. If results cannot be obtained, the complaint then is referred to the national bureau.

The National Better Business Bureau then puts the problem directly before a high ranking corporate executive at American, Chrysler, Ford or General Motors, asks for action and requests a report on the action taken.

"The success of the program depends on the quality of the unresolved complaints referred to these top officials," BBB explains. "Only serious problems that cannot be settled at lower levels should be routed through this channel."

Early results have been good and, viewed more broadly, the hot line does breach what some car owners have long thought was an impenetrable fortress. It is this, rather than the quantity of complaints, that appears to be important.

Love, Life And Laughter Key To 'Fiddler's' Success

Fatherhood has many problems, but a father with five daughters has even more. Bob Carroll, as Teyve, the dairyman, faces this problem in the award-winning musical, "Fiddler on the Roof," tonight 8:30 p.m. at the Veterans Memorial, Columbus.

How dangerous is the position of a fiddler on a roof? It depends upon the roof. Teyve finds this rather shaky as he tries to make proper, and if possible, wealthy matches for his three eldest daughters. In the tradition of the Jewish village of Anatevka in Russia, it is his duty to do his best by the girls, but impoverished, he can offer no dowries.

Mourning over his plight, Teyve dreams "If I Were A Rich Man," and revels in the joys he would have if he were showered with the "curse" of wealth.

Against tradition, the girls pick their own beloveds and Teyve gives in to their wishes, even to the point of breaking a vow he made with a wealthy butcher for his oldest daughter. When his third daughter, Chava, chooses a man of another faith, he falters in his broad-mindedness. Not wishing to destroy her happiness, he still cannot approve of this match, which will destroy everything he has ever believed in.

A radical school teacher arrives from the big city and shocks the townspeople with his new ideas. He astonishes the conservative Jews at the wedding of Tzeitel, Teyve's oldest daughter, by dancing with the ladies. The poor dairyman must decide whether to uphold tradition and punish his second daughter and the schoolteacher for their actions

VA Lists Funds Spent In Pickaway

Michael L. Halloran, manager of the Ohio Veterans Administration Regional Office in Cleveland, disclosed today that the VA spent $1,261,996 in Pickaway County to aid veterans during Fiscal Year 1969. This includes $641,068 in compensation and pensions.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson revealed at the same time the total VA funds expended in the state of Ohio during the same period amounted to about $389,049,514 of which $224,936,161 was in compensation and pension payments.

Funds spent in Pickaway County, Halloran said, also included $106,973 for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation, and $116,250 for insurance and indemnities. Regional office expenditures and hospital operating costs in the state of Ohio amounted to $71,770,466. The VA also spent $368,641 in Ohio for construction and real decosts.

According to Halloran, the VA is the third largest Federal Agency and operates the largest (166) hospital network in the free world, as well as administering one of the biggest insurance programs in the nation.

Meeting Held To Form Airspace Zoning Board

Representing the Pickaway County Airport Commission, John Stevenson, Route 2, met with Ross County Commissioners Monday with a request that they appoint members to an airport zoning board. The local airport authority was recently alerted to the fact that air space in Ross County, joining the proposed Pickaway County Airport, must be zoned and approved before state grants are made available for the local installation.

Ross County zoning would include an area of approximately 1 and one-half mile radius and involves heights of structures in the area.

Aviation law requires that counties involved form a zoning commission to decide rules of zoning which, if approved, are then adopted to qua for state funds.

Stevenson reported Ross County Commissioners were most cooperative, would proceed through legal channels to make the necessary appointments and will advise the local authorities of action taken.

Negro Runs For Senate

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Kenneth W. Clement became the first Negro in Ohio history to seek a U.S. Senate seat as he filed nominating petitions Tuesday and asked Democratic leaders to support his candidacy.

Clement, 49, is a former political advisor to Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes, first Negro elected mayor of a major U.S. city. While he was filing, letters asking support were mailed to 10,000 Democratic precinct committeemen throughout Ohio.

Clement, often a government advisor and a former member of the Presidential appeals board of the Selective Service System, told a news conference: "I sincerely believe that I am better qualified to represent the ideals, aspirations and personal commitments of the Democratic Party and the people of Ohio than the millionaire

Rhodes Says He Won't Drop Libe Charges

By PERRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —

Gov. James A. Rhodes says his fight with Life magazine will not end if he loses the May 5 Republican U.S. Senate primary to Rep. Robert Taft Jr.

"My integrity has been challenged," he said. "My family has been hurt. And I will go to the highest court in the land, if necessary, to clear my name and protect my family."

Rhodes, at a news conference Tuesday, said political opponents could use the Life article of last May 2 as a campaign issue "every night if they so desire."

"My family has been hurt," he repeated. "When anybody hurts my family to get even with me politically, then I am going to fight."

Rhodes said he was a victim of "a brutal and unwarranted" attack in the article entitled "the Governor and the Mobster."

"I have never been part of the mob and I have never done anything here for the mob," Rhodes said.

It was his most emphatic public statements on the article to date.

The magazine suggested there had been wrong-doing in the commutation of one-time Toledo mobster Thomas "Yonnie" Licavoli's first-degree murder sentence to second-degree.

A State Highway Patrol investigation, ordered by Rhodes after the article appeared, found nothing improper in the action, Licavoli is still in Ohio Penitentiary.

The magazine also charged Rhodes with converting campaign funds into personal use and said he had been forced in the early 1950s to pay approximately $100,000 in back taxes and penalties.

"I can prove Life has lied but I must prove it was with malice," Rhodes said. "I believe I can do this with Louis Nizer."

Nizer, a nationally known libel lawyer, has been conferring with Rhodes about libel action against the magazine.

Rhodes said that public officials do not enjoy the rights of others in the courtroom because of recent U.S. Supreme Court decision requiring public figures to prove malice as well as libel.

"The Supreme Court has given Life magazine the right to lie and assassinate the character of my public official," Rhodes said.

Rhodes said his wife has received vicious telephone calls and letters since the article appeared and "my children have been subjected to verbal cruelty beyond the imagination of decent people."

"There is nothing in my personal or political life that cannot stand the light of courtroom examination and I will fight with all my energy to protect my honor as a man, as a father and husband, and as governor," Rhodes added.

All of his personal records, he said, would be turned over to Nizer for the action against Life "and those who maliciously cooperated with them."

Love, Life And Laughter Key To 'Fiddler's' Success

Fatherhood has many problems, but a father with five daughters has even more. Bob Carroll, as Teyve, the dairyman, faces this problem in the award-winning musical, "Fiddler on the Roof," tonight 8:30 p.m. at the Veterans Memorial, Columbus.

How dangerous is the position of a fiddler on a roof? It depends upon the roof. Teyve finds this rather shaky as he tries to make proper, and if possible, wealthy matches for his three eldest daughters. In the tradition of the Jewish village of Anatevka in Russia, it is his duty to do his best by the girls, but impoverished, he can offer no dowries.

Mourning over his plight, Teyve dreams "If I Were A Rich Man," and revels in the joys he would have if he were showered with the "curse" of wealth.

Against tradition, the girls pick their own beloveds and Teyve gives in to their wishes, even to the point of breaking a vow he made with a wealthy butcher for his oldest daughter. When his third daughter, Chava, chooses a man of another faith, he falters in his broad-mindedness. Not wishing to destroy her happiness, he still cannot approve of this match, which will destroy everything he has ever believed in.

A radical school teacher arrives from the big city and shocks the townspeople with his new ideas. He astonished the conservative Jews at the wedding of Tzeitel, Teyve's oldest daughter, by dancing with the ladies. The poor dairyman must decide whether to uphold tradition and punish his second daughter and the schoolteacher for their actions

Michael L. Halloran, manager of the Ohio Veterans Administration Regional Office in Cleveland, disclosed today that the VA spent $1,261,996 in Pickaway County to aid veterans during Fiscal Year 1969. This includes $641,068 in compensation and pensions.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson revealed at the same time the total VA funds expended in the state of Ohio during the same period amounted to about $389,049,514 of which $224,936,161 was in compensation and pension payments.

Perot Plans
New Assault
On Hanoi

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Texas billionaire H. Ross Perot says he doesn't know why he has failed to crack the Bamboo Curtain to help American prisoners of war, but he is optimistic he will eventually.

Here to talk with area wives of POWs and address a meeting of Naval Academy alumni, the Dallas computer tycoon said Tuesday he believes chances for release of prisoners are excellent if the North Vietnamese can be convinced the American people really care.

He described the Communist diplomats he had been dealing with as "lousy debaters, low in regard for human values and showing signs of an inferiority complex."

Perot met with North Vietnamese officials in an unsuccessful effort to fly Christmas packages to prisoners of war.

"I told them that as far as the people of our country are concerned they are a bunch of barbarians the way they are treating our men," he said.

Now, Perot is working on a plan to exchange $100 million worth of goods and commodities to the North Vietnamese for release of the POWs.

Mrs. Fetherolf Honored With Stork Shower

Mrs. Clarence Fetherolf, Tarlton, was honored recently with a Stork Shower held in her home. Hostesses were Marcella Merrick, Sue Zuck, Janice Fetherolf and Wanda Cox.

Blue and pink booties topped the decorated cake. Games were played and prizes won by Betty Hampshire, Sue Pinkstock, Carolyn Laymon and Linda Carroll. Refreshments were served. The honored guest received many gifts.

There were 38 guests present from Circleville, Logan, Lancaster, Gibsonville and Jefferson. Gifts were sent by three persons unable to attend.

Perot Plans New Assault On Hanoi

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Texas billionaire H. Ross Perot says he doesn't know why he has failed to crack the Bamboo Curtain to help American prisoners of war, but he is optimistic he will eventually.

Here to talk with area wives of POWs and address a meeting of Naval Academy alumni, the Dallas computer tycoon said Tuesday he believes chances for release of prisoners are excellent if the North Vietnamese can be convinced the American people really care.

He described the Communist diplomats he had been dealing with as "lousy debaters, low in regard for human values and showing signs of an inferiority complex."

Perot met with North Vietnamese officials in an unsuccessful effort to fly Christmas packages to prisoners of war. "I told them that as far as the people of our country are concerned they are a bunch of barbarians the way they are treating our men," he said.

Now, Perot is working on a plan to exchange $100 million worth of goods and commodities to the North Vietnamese for release of the POWs.

L. Mendel Rivers Seeks Re-Election

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee who has represented South Carolina's 1st District for 30 years, announced Monday his candidacy for another two years.

Rivers, 64, was opposed in the Democratic primary two years ago by George Payton, a Negro attorney from Charleston, but had no opposition in the general election.

Wool's Competitive

MELBOURNE (AP) — Wool which has had to withstand a challenge by synthetics in recent years is now the fiber of the superjet age.

Many American airlines ordering superjets have or plan to buy wool carpeting and wool blankets. North American director of the International Wool Secretariat, Derek Damerall, told the secretariat board meeting here.

He said United Air Lines has chosen wool carpeting upholstery and blankets for its new super jets, and other airlines were considering it.

Damerall said carpet wool consumption in the United States increased in 1968 by nine percent to 91 million pounds clean, and represented 13 percent of the total fibres used for carpets.

Views On TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Television viewers with an appetite for actuality programs had a grim choice Tuesday night. NBC, in its monthly magazine program "First Tuesday," served a segment filmed in sections of India now in the midst of famine. CBS, in its biweekly magazine program "60 Minutes," was simultaneously concentrating on the agony of the bleeding animal in a Spanish bullfight.

These were two of the more serious features in the programs that, once a month, overlap.

NBC opened its two-hour program in a light mood with a report on a self-styled millionaire who made a quick fortune selling imitation shrunken heads, but is now striking it rich organizing "future millionaire clubs" and, for a fee, advising others how to turn a quick buck. It was amusing—and priceless publicity—for the subject.

The program also told of a ballet dancer and her husband who took over an abandoned movie theater in a Death Valley ghost town and painted the flaking walls with murals to simulate an audience. The woman gives solo ballet performances daily—whether anyone comes to see her or not.

A scary short feature presented conflicting opinions on whether there is danger of an earthquake hitting a plutonium plant in the state of Washington where millions of gallons of radioactive water are stored.

A sharp change of pace was the film of the basketball madness that sweeps Galesburg, Ohio, but it was nice to see happy, busy high school students concentrating on sports and cheer-leading.

CBS' program started at about that point, with a report on what cohost Mike Wallace called "the bloodiest revolution" in the motion picture industry.

The revolution is made by the young. Wallace said two out of three movie goers today are between 16 and 25, and they go to see movies "made about themselves."

The young film makers like to shoot low-budget movies on location, he said. There were bits from interviews from some of the young and avant garde, including the makers of "Easy Rider," a smash hit.

At that point, Cleveland Amory took over with his vivid report on "man at his most violent, man at his cruellest" in the bullring, and this viewer beat a hasty retreat.

NBC wound up its second hour with a film portrait of Bernadette Devlin, the young member of Parliament who faces jail for her part in the conflicts in Northern Ireland.

The photography and the handling of the profile was revealing and adroit. It was a British production already shown on English TV, but banned in Ireland.

Both are such good programs that it seems a shame they come on the same night.

Explosion Rocks Archbold Firm

WAUSEON, Ohio (AP)—A violent explosion rocked the Miller Gas Co. near Archbold early today, causing extensive damage but no injuries, the Fulton County Sheriff's Department reported.

"I was sitting here (in Wauseon) at the sheriff's office," said Deputy Hal Snow, "and felt the blast." Archbold is nine miles from here.

Snow said the explosion and ensuing fire ripped through a garage housing several trucks at the firm, which distributes bottled propane gas.

The Bluffville Corners and Archbold fire departments battled the fire.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Kids Can Study With Noise

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to "Generation Gap"—the mother who couldn't understand how her kids could study with all kinds of racket going on around them!

We have become so accustomed to noise that it doesn't distract us. We can "turn it off" in our minds. I know that I cannot study unless I am tuning out some kind of noise. By the way, I am 16, and a straight A student.

NEEDS NOISE TO STUDY BY
DEAR ABBY: Re the lady who wrote and asked you if you thought her kids could really study with the noise of a television or radio going on: You said, "Send me their grades, and I'll send you my answer." Well, it's not necessary to send their grades. I am 17 and I do all my homework while I'm watching television or listening to the radio, and I have a 3.4 grade average.

If I tried to study in a quiet place, I would never get my work done because I'd be spending all my time trying to hear what everyone else was doing.

A RADIO OR TV TUNES OUT all that other noise. It works.

I say, let kids study in whatever atmosphere they want to study in. They are old enough to know how they study best.

LIKES NOISE IN MANHATTAN
DEAR ABBY: You had a letter in your column recently from a mother who asked you if you thought a child could really "study" properly with the television going full blast and the racket of a stereo and radio going on. Your comment interested me. ("Send me his grades and I'll send you an answer.") I am a high school teacher, and I asked for a show of hands of ALL the students who made it a practice to try to find a "quiet" place in which to study. NOT one of my honor students raised his hand! So maybe the kids of today are able to tune out distractions.

TELLING IT LIKE IT IS
DEAR ABBY: It makes me so mad! Why can't parents understand us children? I saw the letter in your column signed "GENERATION GAP," and all I can say is there sure is a generation gap when it comes to "noise" and how it affects the younger generation as compared to how it affected their parents.

If I don't have some kind of "noise" around me, I can't concentrate on what I'm reading. This is the truth because I have tried to study in silence and I can't do it. I am a high school freshman and make straight A's.

15 IN AUBURN, KY.
DEAR ABBY: Maybe the kids are right. Years ago I lived near the railroad tracks, and I slept like a log every night even though I could hear that train whistle at all hours.

We moved, and I had a terrible time sleeping. I actually missed the noise of the train! So, familiar "noise" can sometimes unconsciously give peace of mind and a feeling of security to a person. I say, if the kids want to study in a boiler factory, let them if they make their grades.

GRANDPA IN DULUTH
DEAR ABBY: My kid is one of those who studies with the television turned up so high it can break your eardrum. He also claims he can "tune out" the noise so it doesn't bother him. So how come when he's talking on the telephone if someone in the next room says, "boo" he yells, "SHUT UP — I'M TRYING TO TALK ON THE PHONE!"

Baus Says Use Of Guns Necessary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More restraint by policemen in the use of firearms would cause Columbus' crime rate to increase substantially, Police Chief Robert Baus says.

"Some people want me to tell the men they can only use their gun when their life is in danger," Baus said Tuesday.

"I'm not about to do that. If I did, our crime wave would double in 90 days—and it's already bad enough," he added.

The police chief insisted he will not be pressured into changing regulations because of recent slayings of burglary suspects, all Negroes.

The executive committee of the Columbus NAACP chapter adopted a resolution Tuesday calling on black citizens to petition the mayor and city council to suspend officers involved in one incident until an impartial body can investigate it.

The American Civil Liberties Union issued a statement Tuesday urging the police department to speedily adopt a policy that would limit the use of deadly force to cases which truly justify it.

About 25 Negro ministers, members of the Baptist Pastors' Conference, met with Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner, Safety Director James Hughes and Baus Tuesday to protest what they called the "mass murder of our citizens."

Sensenbrenner denied there had been any "recent onslaught" and said the people would not have been shot if they had not been breaking the law.

Murphy Seeks Office

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Attorney Joseph J. Murphy of Columbus, former state representative from Miami County, filed petitions Tuesday as a Democratic candidate for state senator in the 17th District.

Jehovah's Witnesses Plan Confab

A Circleville delegation of about 50 ministers, Bible instructors and students will convene in Columbus with similar Southern Ohio groups in a unique 3-day Christian assembly, open to the public.

The Feb. 20-22 meeting in the state's historic Ohio Theatre across from the capitol will host an expected 2,000 delegates from some 17 southern Ohio congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Heading the local contingent will be Billie J. Lemaster, presiding minister of the Circleville congregation, which meets at Kingdom Hall, 220 Nicholas Drive.

An innovation to Central Ohioans in three particular ways, Lemaster said, the convention "will be open to the average 'man of the street' to come and observe Christian teachers in action." Also, he said, "It certainly will be a refreshing addition to the already rich cultural background of the famed Ohio Theatre." The specially-invited feature speaker is Theodore Jaracz, supervisor from world missionary headquarters of the Watchtower Bible and Tract

How The Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio:

Sub zero temperatures were recorded around Ohio Tuesday night with Toledo and Youngstown reporting the coldest readings.

Skies were clear overnight. Temperatures will moderate beginning today and lows tonight will range generally between 15 and 20.

The outlook Thursday calls for cloudy weather with a chance of snow and temperatures ranging from 25 to 30 in the afternoon.

Cloudy weather is in store again for Friday with the warming trend continuing.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Becoming cloudy with light snow likely this afternoon and tonight. Not so cold. Lows tonight 15-20. Thursday cloudy and a little warmer with a chance of snow.

NORTHWEST INLAND, WEST LAKE SHORE, WEST CENTRAL & CENTRAL OHIO — Becoming cloudy with light snow likely later this afternoon and tonight. Not so cold. Lows

Society, New York, he said.

Regular meetings of the Circleville congregation, suspended during the convention weekend, will resume 8 p.m. Feb. 24, the local minister said.

tonight in the teens. Thursday cloudy with a chance of snow. SOUTHWEST & SOUTHEAST OHIO — Becoming cloudy with a chance of light snow later this afternoon and tonight. Not so cold. Lows tonight near 20. Thursday cloudy with a chance of snow. Highs around 30.

LAKE ERIE — Southerly winds 20-30 knots tonight. Becoming cloudy with light snow.

OHIO FIVE-DAY FORECAST
Temperatures will average above normal Thursday through Monday. Highs will be in the 40s and lows will range from the mid and low 20s to the lower 30s extreme south. Below normal readings Thursday gradually will moderate. Precipitation will total 1 to 3 inches melted as snow Thursday and showers about Sunday or Monday.

350 Social Security Checks Are Stolen

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — The theft of some 350 Social Security checks valued at $65,800 from the Masury Post Office in eastern Trumbull County was being investigated by sheriff's deputies and postal authorities.

Officials said the checks were taken from a safe Monday night or early Tuesday. They said there also was an attempt to enter the safe's security container. Masury is near the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line.

3 Arrested; Find Out 2 Fled Prison

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Police stopped a car a few blocks from the heart of the city early Tuesday and its three occupants were arrested, police said, when two loaded pistols were discovered.

Det. Sgt. Fred Williams said a check of the trio's fingerprints disclosed that two of them were being sought after escaping from a San Francisco jail last Thursday.

David Charles Murtaugh, 29, of Newton Falls, Ohio, and Blake Covert Layton, 24, address unknown, were federal prisoners jailed in connection with six bank robberies when they fled the California jail, Williams said.

Patrolmen Matthew Jenny and Lindsey Moore, who made the initial investigation, also arrested Joseph F. Dennis, 30, of suburban Metairie and booked him with illegally carrying a weapon.

Sgt. Williams said the men were driving a car owned by a salesman who was kidnapped and robbed over the weekend in Warren, Ohio. Williams said investigation showed that Dennis was not involved in the California escape or Ohio crimes.

Strong Quake Shakes Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A strong earthquake, believed centered off the southern coast of Mexico east of Acapulco, shook Mexico City tonight. But police said no damage was reported in the capital or in Acapulco.

The Tacubaya Seismological Station said the quake had a force of 6.3 on the Richter scale. Seismologist Lorenzo Dominguez Duranete added in a communique that the center of the quake was 285 miles southeast of Mexico City, probably off the coast of Oaxaca State.

The quake was felt in Mexico City a 11:09 p.m.—12:09 a.m. Wednesday EST. It also was recorded at the University of California seismographic station at Berkeley.

Peach Blossoms Symbol Of Hong Kong's New Year

By STEVE LIBBY
Written Especially for Central Press and This Newspaper
It's a long way from Main Street U.S.A. to Hong Kong, in miles and in culture.
Today it's Peach Blossom time in that far eastern city, the gayest and most colorful time on the Chinese calendar. The Lunar New Year is just around the corner. For centuries, peach blossoms have been the symbol of the holiday which this year falls on Feb. 17.

The entry of the new year is celebrated with pomp, festivity and tradition in which even the heavens will delight. The Chinese kitchen god, known as Tsao Kwan, whose shrine decorates most Hong Kong homes, is said to go "on furlough." He takes off to the heavens, and while he's there, he reports to other gods on the behavior of the family whose home he oversees. But certain earthly business must be completed before this takes place.

Debts must be settled. Ancestors must be remembered and worshipped. Homes must be kept meticulously clean and bright colors are the order of the day. Peach blossoms, gladioli, narcissus and potted mandarin trees add the color and the mandarin trees add to the mystique: the fruit is symbolic of fullness and completeness.

All these items and many more must be achieved seven days before the first day of the first Moon in the period known as the "Little New Year," an interlude plainly designed for housewives to do their shopping early. It happens to coincide with the time when the kitchen god is on his annual leave.

On the day Tsao Kwan departs, families throughout the Chinese community prepare sumptuous meals for him, to be certain that he has enough food for his long and perilous journey. But, always as is the case in such offerings, it's the earthly folk who make a feast of it.

In every Chinese household there are bundles of sausages suspended in mid-air. Layers of pressed ducks appear in cupboards. Refrigerators are packed to capacity with fresh vegetables and live chickens cackle in a small, fenced-in corner of the home.

Paraphernalia of prayer is also in evidence: joss sticks, paper gold and silver, papier mache models of homes, cars and other luxury items. All will be burned and offered to ancestors and the deities.

No one knows how much the Chinese in Hong Kong spend over the New Year holiday. Most can afford it, however. New Year is the time for payment of double wages. During the actual holiday, though, shops close for three days.

It is a time of gyrating activity, with traditional lion and unicorn dances, not to mention the dance of the fairies and to the "God of the South Gate of Heaven." All are part of the celebrations which really begin shortly after midnight on the last day of the 12th Moon.

On this night the "Tuen Nin" banquet is held for the family, the feast to which no outsider is ever invited. It is a meal with much meditation, a time for general reconciliation when all quarrels must be forgotten. The food consists of sharkfin soup, sweet and sour pork, roast duck, chicken, abalone, diced walnuts, bamboo shoots, fried noodles and rice.

Throughout the period, all eyes will be on the peach blossom, whose blooms hold the key to what lies in store for the remainder of the year. If it blooms, the deities were surely present throughout the celebrations and the New Year will be a prosperous one. If it dries up and withers away, bad luck is sure to follow.

Norwood Approves Junior School Plan

CINCINNATI (AP) — The suburban Norwood school system today went forward with plans to install their first junior high school system for grades seven through nine after voters approved a $5.895 million bond issue Tuesday.

The favorable votes was 2,478 to 2,191. The funds will be used to add classrooms at several schools and purchase a site for a new high school in the future. The system now operates eight grade elementary schools and one four year high school.

Sewer Gas Blast Cause?

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Demolition experts sifting the wreckage of the Shaker Heights Municipal Building, leveled Monday night by an explosion, say some kind of gas—perhaps sewer gas—probably caused the blast.

The explosion injured 15 persons, one critically.

Bad weather hampered investigators sifting the debris, but Shaker Heights Police Chief Carl Longstreet said, "I expect the cause to be officially determined by Wednesday afternoon."

Bomb experts probing the debris of the 11-year-old building agree that the explosion probably was not caused by a bomb. They seemed convinced that the blast was caused by gas. Sewer gas—75 per cent of which is methane, the same material as natural gas—was a prime suspect.

The East Ohio Gas Co. reported its gas meter and all gas connections in the building were intact following the explosion, indicating it was not a natural gas explosion. "There was no leak of any kind," a gas company spokesman said.

SALT CREEK VALLEY GRANGE

Future events were announced and planned at the Tuesday session of Salt Creek Valley Grange at which the Master Frances Fraunfelter presided.

Mrs. Judson Beougher and Mrs. Hoyt Timmons assisted Mrs. Fred DeLong in making plans for preparing and serving the luncheon at Pomona Grange, Saturday.

Final plans were made for the program visitation to Washington Grange Tuesday Feb. 10.

Paul Dunkle, deputy master, reminded fellow members of the official inspection visitation for the March 3 meeting with Orley Judy serving as degree chairman.

He announced that the County Drill Team would make its first presentation March 4 at Adena and that a Youth Travel Scholarship had been requested. Brochures for the June through August tours were distributed — to Scandinavia and Alaska.

Mrs. Leora Sayre gave highlights of the recent district legislative session held in Circleville at which elected legislators and Grange officials guided the enrichment of legal knowledge.

Mrs. Timmons thanked all who helped with the recent Distinguished Service Awards Banquet by Circleville Jaycees.

The master was again commended for a second achievement recognition of his daughter Vicki Fraunfelter — the La Sertoma Award.

The program as supervised by the lecturer, Paul Dunkle was a review-practice for the district contest to be held the evening of Feb. 7 at Rushcreek Grange Hall in Bremen.

During the concluding social period, refreshments were served from a Valentine decorated table by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collins and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Moss.

Yablonski Grand Jury Hears Man

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A federal grand jury trying to establish who financed an alleged plot to kill United Mine Workers insurgent Joseph A. Yablonski was expected to hear from the head of a Tennessee UMW local today.

Scheduled to testify was Sillou Hoddleston, 61 president of local 3228 at LaFollette, Tenn., and father-in-law of Paul E. Gilly, one of three Cleveland men indicted by the jury last Thursday on charges of conspiring to kill Yablonski.

Two other officials of Local 3228—the Rev. David E. Brandenburg, secretary-treasurer, and Guy Swindle, recording secretary—testified before the grand jury Tuesday and later told newsmen that their local had no part in financing the Yablonski killing.

"No sir, there ain't no blood money from that local," declared Brandenburg, 72.

The grand jury subpoenaed records of the 76-member UMW local, but Brandenburg and Swindle, 65, said they did not know the reason for the action.

In returning conspiracy indictments against Gilly, 36, Claude E. Vealey, 26, and Aubran W. Nartin, 21, the grand jury said a plot to kill Yablonski was financed from a fund maintained by Gilly but left open the question of who financed the alleged plot.

The three Cleveland men have been charged with first-degree murder in Pennsylvania in the slayings of Yablonski, 59, his wife, Margaret, 57, and their daughter, Charlotte Joanne, 25, who were found shot to death in their Clarksville, Pa., home Jan. 5.

Most File Petitions For Office

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Most aspirants for major statewide office had filed their candidacy petitions with Secretary of State Ted W. Brown as today's 4 p.m. filing deadline approached.

Filing Tuesday were John J. Gilligan and Robert E. Sweeney, Democratic gubernatorial hopefuls.

Gilligan, a 49-year-old Cincinnati insurance executive, outlined a platform to return governmental decisions to the people.

Sweeney, 45, of Cleveland, a former Congressman - at-large, gave indications of a bitter primary battle by calling party leaders "conspirators" to squeeze him from the running in favor of candidates who appeal to special interest groups.

Other Democratic candidates for major office filing petitions Tuesday: Dr. Kenneth W. Clement, Negro surgeon from Cleveland, for U.S. Senate; Perry Mason of Aurora, for lieutenant governor; Samuel Rugg of Newark, for auditor; Robert E. Hagan, Trumbull County commissioner, for lieutenant governor; Robert E. Cecil of Enon, for secretary of state, and Allen Brown, Cincinnati, for Supreme Court judgeship.

The only Republicans filing for major office Tuesday were incumbent Supreme Court justices, C. William O'Neill, Robert M. Duncan and J. J. P. Corrigan.

Peach Blossoms Symbol Of Hong Kong's New Year

By STEVE LIBBY
Written Especially for Central Press and This Newspaper

It's a long way from Main Street U.S.A. to Hong Kong, in miles and in culture.

Today it's Peach Blossom time in that far eastern city, the gayest and most colorful time on the Chinese calendar. The Lunar New Year is just around the corner. For centuries, peach blossoms have been the symbol of the holiday which this year falls on Feb. 17.

The entry of the new year is celebrated with pomp, festivity and tradition in which even the heavens will delight.

The Chinese kitchen god, known as Tsao Kwan, whose shrine decorates most Hong Kong homes, is said to go "on furlough." He takes off to the heavens, and while he's there, he reports to other gods on the behavior of the family whose home he oversees. But certain earthly business must be completed before this takes place.

Debts must be settled. Ancestors must be remembered and worshipped. Homes must be kept meticulously clean and bright colors are the order of the day. Peach blossoms, gladioli, narcissus and potted mandarin trees add the color and the mandarin trees add to the mystique: the fruit is symbolic of fullness and completeness.

All these items and many more must be achieved seven days before the first day of the first Moon in the period known as the "Little New Year," an interlude plainly designed for housewives to do their shopping early. It happens to coincide with the time when the kitchen god is on his annual leave.

On the day Tsao Kwan departs, families throughout the Chinese community prepare sumptuous meals for him, to be certain that he has enough food for his long and perilous journey. But, always as is the case in such offerings, it's the earthly folk who make a feast of it.

In every Chinese household there are bundles of sausages suspended in mid-air. Layers of pressed ducks appear in cupboards. Refrigerators are packed to capacity with fresh vegetables and live chickens cackle in a small, fenced-in corner of the home.

Paraphernalia of prayer is also in evidence: joss sticks, paper gold and silver, papiere mache models of homes, cars and other luxury items. All will be burned and offered to ancestors and the dieties.

No one knows how much the Chinese in Hong Kong spend over the New Year holiday. Most can afford it, however. New Year is the time for payment of double wages. During the actual holiday, though, shops close for three days.

It is a time of gyrating activity, with traditional lion and unicorn dances, not to mention the dance of the fairies and to the "God of the South Gate of Heaven." All are part of the celebrations which really begin shortly after midnight on the last day of the 12th Moon.

On this night the "Tuen Nin" banquet is held for the family, the feast to which no outsider is ever invited. It is a meal with much meditation, a time for general reconciliation when all quarrels must be forgotten. The food consists of sharkfin soup, sweet and sour pork, roast duck, chicken, abalone, diced walnuts, bamboo shoots, fried noodles and rice.

Throughout the period, all eyes will be on the peach blossom, whose blooms hold the key to what lies in store for the remainder of the year. If it blooms, the dieties were surely present throughout the celebrations and the New Year will be a prosperous one. If it dries up and withers away, bad luck is sure to follow.

Most File Petitions For Office

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Most aspirants for major statewide office had filed their candidacy petitions with Secretary of State Ted W. Brown as today's 4 p.m. filing deadline approached.

Filing Tuesday were John J. Gilligan and Robert E. Sweeney, Democratic gubernatorial hopefuls.

Gilligan, a 49-year-old Cincinnati insurance executive, outlined a platform to return governmental decisions to the people.

Sweeney, 45, of Cleveland, a former Congressman - at-large, gave indications of a bitter primary battle by calling party leaders "conspirators" to squeeze him from the running in favor of candidates who appeal to special interest groups.

Other Democratic candidates for major office filing petitions Tuesday: Dr. Kenneth W. Clement, Negro surgeon from Cleveland, for U.S. Senate; Perry Mason of Aurora, for lieutenant governor; Samuel Rugg of Newark, for auditor; Robert E. Hagan, Trumbull County commissioner, for lieutenant governor; Robert E. Cecil of Enon, for secretary of state, and Allen Brown, Cincinnati, for Supreme Court judgeship.

The only Republicans filing for major office Tuesday were incumbent Supreme Court justices, C. William O'Neill, Robert M. Duncan and J. J. P. Corrigan.

Sewer Gas Blast Cause?

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Demolition experts sifting the wreckage of the Shaker Heights Municipal Building, leveled Monday night by an explosion, say some kind of gas—perhaps sewer gas — probably caused the blast.

The explosion injured 15 persons, one critically.

Bad weather hampered investigators sifting the debris, but Shaker Heights Police Chief Carl Longstreet said, "I expect the cause to be officially determined by Wednesday afternoon."

Bomb experts probing the debris of the 11-year-old building agree that the explosion probably was not caused by a bomb. They seemed convinced that the blast was caused by gas. Sewer gas—75 per cent of which is methane, the same material as natural gas—was a prime suspect.

The East Ohio Gas Co. reported its gas meter and all gas connections in the building were intact following the explosion, indicating it was not a natural gas explosion. "There was no leak of any kind," a gas company spokesman said.

SALT CREEK VALLEY GRANGE

Future events were announced and planned at the Tuesday session of Salt Creek Valley Grange at which the Master Frances Fraunfelder presided.

Mrs. Judson Beougher and Mrs. Hoyt Timmons assisted Mrs. Fred DeLong in making plans for preparing and serving the luncheon at Pomona Grange, Saturday.

Final plans were made for the program visitation to Washington Grange Tuesday Feb. 10.

Paul Dunkle, deputy master, reminded fellow members of the official inspection visitation for the March 3 meeting with Orley Judy serving as degree chairman.

He announced that the County Drill Team would make its first visit presentation March 4 at Adena and that a Youth Travel Scholarship had been requested. Brochures for the June through August tours were distributed — to Scandinavia and Alaska.

Mrs. Leora Sayre gave highlights of the recent district legislative session held in Circleville at which elected legislators and Grange officials guided the enrichment of legal knowledge.

Mrs. Timmons thanked all who helped with the recent Distinguished Service Awards Banquet by Circleville Jaycees. The master was again commended for a second achievement recognition of his daughter Vicki Fraunfelder — the La Sertoma Award.

The program as supervised by the lecturer, Paul Dunkle was a review-practice for the district contest to be held the evening of Feb. 7 at Rushcreek Grange Hall in Bremen.

During the concluding social period, refreshments were served from a Valentine decorated table by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collins and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Moss.

Yablonski Grand Jury Hears Man

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A federal grand jury trying to establish who financed an alleged plot to kill United Mine Workers insurgent Joseph A. Yablonski was expected to hear from the head of a Tennessee UMW local today.

Scheduled to testify was Sillou Hoddleston, 61 president of local 3228 at LaFollette, Tenn., and father-in-law of Paul E. Gilly, one of three Cleveland men indicted by the jury last Thursday on charges of conspiring to kill Yablonski.

Two other officials of Local 3228—the Rev. David E. Brandenburg, secretary-treasurer, and Guy Swindle, recording secretary—testified before the grand jury Tuesday and later told newsmen that their local had no part in financing the Yablonski killing.

"No sir, there ain't no blood money from that local," declared Brandenburg, 72.

The grand jury subpoenaed records of the 76-member UMW local, but Brandenburg and Swindle, 65, said they did not know the reason for the action.

In returning conspiracy indictments against Gilly, 36, Claude E. Vealey, 26, and Aubran W. Martin, 21, the grand jury said a plot to kill Yablonski was financed from a fund maintained by Gilly but left open the question of who financed the alleged plot.

The three Cleveland men have been charged with first-degree murder in Pennsylvania in the slayings of Yablonski, 59, his wife, Margaret, 57, and their daughter, Charlotte Joanne, 25, who were found shot to death in their Clarksville, Pa., home Jan. 5.

Services at the local Methodist Church are held 10:30 a.m. each Sunday following 9:30 a.m. Sunday School. Following rendition by the choir of the Hymn "God has a Reason", last Sunday Feb. 1, a very inspiring sermon "What the Spirit Said" was delivered by Rev. Wetherell. Attendees at the door next Sunday, Feb. 8 will be Mr. and Mrs. Ben Grace with Mrs. Evelyn Kauffeld and Brenda Bidwell in charge of the nursery.

The WSCS held their regular meeting Tuesday evening in the church basement. Hostesses were Mrs. Charlotte Browning, Mrs. Bernice Holshue, Mrs. Eva Keller, Mrs. Mary Davis and Mrs. Dorothy Beavers.

Rev. G. C. Johnson, who was to be guest speaker at the first anniversary of the new church at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 18 cannot be present at that time. Instead, a Song Fest is planned, followed by refreshments and a social hour. Everyone is invited.

With our patients — Mr. Thomas Parmenter remains in poor condition in Room 204 at Mercy Hospital.

Mrs. Grace Wilkins remains very jolly and tells me she is about her old self — "up one day, and down the next". She spends most of her time in a wheel chair and is happy to receive visitors and phone calls.

Mrs. Emma Coontz is showing some improvement at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Jones.

Others haven't been reported in the past few days.

Mrs. Mollie Gregg of Columbus, is spending the winter at the home of her brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Berger of near here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kaiser of Harrisburg were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Kaiser and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter of near Mt. Sterling were visitors and dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Rason on Monday evening of last week.

Sweeney Hits Party Group

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP) — Robert Sweeney, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination Tuesday attacked his party's state executive committee, calling its members "conspirators."

He made the charge in a press conference shortly after filing his petitions with the Secretary of State.

Sweeney said "this small but powerful group of professional politicians is meeting right now under the guise of examining candidates' credentials and establishing party unity. In actual fact, however, they evaluate the candidate's fitness for office by his ability to raise money, his appeal to special interest groups and other inappropriate qualifications. I say this group is not establishing unity, but conspiracy."

The former congressman at large said the party wants candidates to "audition for the role of governor," instead of campaigning.

The Cleveland Democrat said the party is trying to "squeeze him out" of the governor's race, but he declined to call for the ouster of state party chairman Pete O'Grady. "That's something the party will have to take up," Sweeney said.

afternoon and evening visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Porter.

Mrs. Mable Paine of Westerville honored her sister, Mrs. Lena Hoover of Commercial Point with a birthday dinner Sunday. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoover and family of Grove City, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hoover and family of Hilliard, and Mr. Bobby Holbein of Columbus.

Mr. Harold Estep of Hiner Rd. talked with her son Pfc. James Estep, a patient in Valley Forge General Hospital last Friday evening. "Jim" has discarded his crutches and is able to walk with the aid of a cane. He will be home soon for a 30 day visit and then will return for further surgery.

Several local ladies attended the January luncheon of the Christian Women's Club at the Berwick Party House on January 26. John W. Peterson, noted musician and composer of Grand Rapids, Mich. was guest speaker.

Attending from our area were

Mrs. Helen Beckman, Mrs. Pauline Hutchins, Mrs. Betty Phillips, Mrs. Beulah Duvall, Mrs. Helen Hancock, Mrs. June Duvall and Mrs. Elinor Flierl of Ashville.

The Ladies of the Fire Department Auxillary will meet at the home of Mrs. Darlene Finch 8 p.m., Feb. 10. Election of officers will be followed by a discussion of upcoming events.

The Village Council met this

Monday evening Feb. 2. Any new business will be published next week.

Among over 100 contestants participating in the A.J.B.C. bowling tournament at the 3C Lanes last Saturday, was a local girl Kathy Well who with her partner Teresa Wrightsell of Columbus, finished in 5th place. The contest included all of the greater Columbus area. Winners will attend the annual banquet in May at the Fairgrounds Exposition building when they will receive their trophies.

Representatives of the promoters are busy in the community selling advertising, etcetera, for programs for the "Tex Ritter Show," being sponsored by the local fire department to be presented in the early spring. Further details will be announced as they develop.

Last Monday Jan. 26, is a day to be remembered in this community. Gas was turned on for the first time. Our local post office became the first customer, to be followed by over 100 others, as soon as heating facilities are changed over. This is a great improvement for our community and should be appreciated by all. Service will be maintained by the Circleville Office of Columbia Gas of Ohio. Some improvement for all of us!

afternoon and evening visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Porter.

Mrs. Mable Paine of Westerville honored her sister, Mrs. Lena Hoover of Commercial Point with a birthday dinner Sunday. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoover and family of Grove City, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hoover and family of Hilliard, and Mr. Bobby Holbein of Columbus.

Mr. Harold Estep of Hiner Rd. talked with her son Pfc. James Estep, a patient in Valley Forge General Hospital last Friday evening. "Jim" has discarded his crutches and is able to walk with the aid of a cane. He will be home soon for a 30 day visit and then will return for further surgery.

Several local ladies attended the January luncheon of Christian Women's Club at the Berwick Party House on January 26. John W. Peterson, noted musician and composer of Grand Rapids, Mich. was guest speaker.

Attending from our area were

Mrs. Helen Beckman, Mrs. Pauline Hutchins, Mrs. Betty Phillips, Mrs. Beulah Duvall, Mrs. Helen Hancock, Mrs. June Duvall and Mrs. Elinor Flierl of Ashville.

The Ladies of the Fire Department Auxiliary will meet at the home of Mrs. Darlene Finch 8 p.m., Feb. 10. Election of officers will be followed by a discussion of upcoming events.

The Village Council met this

Monday evening Feb. 2. Any new business will be published next week.

Among over 100 contestants participating in the A.J.B.C. bowling tournament at the 3C Lanes last Saturday, was a local girl Kathy Well who with her partner Teresa Wrightsell of Columbus, finished in 5th place. The contest included all of the greater Columbus area. Winners will attend the annual banquet in May at the Fairgrounds Exposition building when they will receive their trophies.

Representatives of the promoters are busy in the community selling advertising, etcetera, for programs for the "Tex Ritter Show," being sponsored by the local fire department to be presented in the early spring. Further details will be announced as they develop.

Last Monday Jan. 26, is a day to be remembered in this community. Gas was turned on for the first time. Our local post office became the first customer, to be followed by over 100 others, as soon as heating facilities are changed over. This is a great improvement for our community and should be appreciated by all. Service will be maintained by the Circleville Office of Columbia Gas of Ohio. Some improvement for all of us!

Boston Patriots Receive Offers For Franchise

BOSTON (AP) — The old saying "the grass always looks greener across the street" appears to apply to the homeless Boston Patriots.

Bill Sullivan, president of the Patriots, still hopes to keep the pro football franchise in Boston, but the line of applicants from cities throughout the country and Canada is growing.

On the docket today was a meeting with Gov. Claude Kirk of Florida, who would like the team to move to Tampa or Jacksonville.

Sullivan, who says the Patriots must make a decision by March 15, also agreed to meet "sometime Thursday, probably in New Hampshire," with Gov. Walter Peterson of that state. Peterson wants to discuss the possibility of building a suitable stadium in southern New Hampshire, about an hour's drive from Boston.

"We've also been contacted by Canadian cities seeking the Patriots—Toronto and Montreal," he added. "Frankly, their initial proposals are quite attractive."

Also contacting Sullivan were officials and groups in Seattle, Tampa and Jacksonville, Memphis, Tenn., Birmingham, Ala., and Kentucky. All have felt out the Patriots in the past.

The flood of phone calls and telegrams began anew Monday when the Harvard Corporation re-affirmed a decision barring the Patriots from the university's stadium.

Vikings, Mustangs In Big Fray; Logan Elm Meets Paint Valley

Westfall sees action twice this week while Teays Valley and Logan Elm have one game on tap.

They are busy shoring up the roof at Teays Valley gym as the rafters will be ringing Friday night when the Westfall Mustangs gallop into Viking country for a real donnybrook.

Westfall (7-9) will be looking for retribution and Teays Valley (12-3) wants to show that they can do it again.

The Vikings conquered the Mustangs in their first encounter, 77-65, and Dale Lambert set a county scoring record with 52 points. The cagers of Coach Paul Hoskins will do everything in their power to prevent a recurrence while Coach Bob Hoovers squad will be trying to make it win number 13 for the Vikings.

FANS will be lined up early to see the promised duel between Dale Lambert of the Vikings and Greg Bigam of the Mustangs. Lambert has compiled a better than 33-points a game average while Bigam is snorting down his neck with over 29-markers a game to his credit.

Both boys lead balanced squads into the fray and this may decide the contest. Bill Blair, Randy Alkire, Tom Hawker and Steve Sines comprise the starting five for Westfall and have come up with some real good performances.

Adding to the Viking's power are Ed McCord, Larry Dixon, Wayne Brown, Ed Combs and Bob Tucker who have shown plenty of strength for Teays Valley this season.

Records go out the window when these county rivals meet and the fans can look for plenty of fireworks Friday night at Teays Valley.

The Vikings will be idle Saturday while Westfall returns home to meet the Circleville Tigers.

Logan Elm's will be idle Friday but will hit the warpath again Saturday night when they travel to Paint Valley to engage the Bearcats.

Pete Brown's Determination Brings Him Golf Laurels

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)

— Pete Brown is a soft-spoken, retiring guy whose career has been marked by quiet determination.

He's the product of the caddy ranks on segregated courses in the South, of assistant jobs at little-known clubs, up from the qualifying rounds and a victor over polo.

Brown, one of the few Negroes on the pro golf tour, ended 17 years of obscurity when he caught the nation's fancy last week with a gripping charge that swept him past Jack Nicklaus and England's Tony Jacklin in the Andy Williams-San Diego Open Golf Tournament.

A national television audience watched him swing a club in apparent nervousness as he waited for Jacklin to tee off in the first hole of their sudden death playoff for the $30,000 first prize.

"It wasn't that, being nervous, so much as I've got to keep moving or my muscles stiffen up," Brown said.

That's a hold-over from a polo attack that had Brown bedridden for about 12 months in 1956-57. He still has muscular trouble in his back, arms and legs, "just all over," he said. "I have to take off about every fourth week or so for a rest," Brown explained.

At 35, he has been a pro since age 18 and has been on the tour since 1963. But he was an unknown until he came out of the back with that sparkling, seven-under-par 65 on the final round at San Diego.

Chaps, Carolina Win Big Games On ABA Circuit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Catch-as-catch-can proved a winning way for the Dallas Chaps, but the New York Nets got caught at their own comeback game.

Dallas, trailing Indiana through three quarters of their American Basketball Association game Tuesday night, rallied behind four 20-point scorers and downed the Eastern Division leaders 126-122.

New York struck for five straight baskets early in the fourth quarter to overtake Carolina 72-71, then took the short end of a 9-0 answering burst that carried the Cougars to a 105-91 victory.

Washington blitzed Denver 142-125 in the only other ABA game scheduled.

In National Basketball Association play, New York bombed San Francisco 118-98, Boston trimmed Chicago 93-85, Seattle stunned Baltimore 120-115, Los Angeles toppled Cincinnati 124-114, and Phoenix beat Philadelphia 131-123.

Dallas shot past Indiana 112-111 with 4½ minutes remaining on two free throws by Cincy Powell and hung on the rest of the way.

Cold Illini Lose To Wisconsin, 66-65

By HERSHEL NISSENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

Illinois had a lid on its basket Tuesday night. Rhode Island could have used one on its roof. The Illini managed only four points over a 9½-minute stretch of the second half, blew a 10-point lead, lost to Wisconsin 66-65 on Al Henry's basket with two seconds left and dropped out of the Big Ten lead when Iowa trimmed Minnesota 90-77.

At Kingston, R.I., meanwhile, the URI-St. John's game was halted with 13:16 remaining and the visitors from New York leading 55-40 when the top of a roof vent blew off and heavy rain soaked the floor. The game was to be resumed at 1 p.m., EST, today.

Besides 14th-ranked Illinois and 20th-ranked Iowa, three other Top Twenty teams in The Associated Press poll saw action.

Fourth-ranked St. Bonaventure set a school scoring record by crushing Belmont Abbey 131-64; North Carolina, No. 7, minus two injured regulars, got by Atlantic Coast Conference rival Virginia 87-72 and No. 15 Davidson blew most of an 18-point lead before downing William & Mary 95-87 in Southern Conference play.

Illinois, which had won its previous five Big Ten games, led Wisconsin all the way and had a 65-61 advantage with less than two minutes to go before Clarence Sherrod, the game's high scorer with 21 points, made three free throws—one a technical foul—to close the gap.

With eight seconds left, Rick Howat, Illinois' top foul shooter, missed the first of a one-and-one free throw. Wisconsin grabbed the rebound, called time out and set up Henry's winning basket.

Iowa, meanwhile, found itself trailing Minnesota 59-57 in the second half. The Hawkeyes then put on a surge that carried them to an 18-point bulge and insured them of a 5-0 league record. John Johnson took scoring honors with 33 points while Eric Hill had 29 for Minnesota.

Elsewhere in the Big Ten, Rick Mount connected on 16 of 25 floor shots, scored 41 points and gunned Purdue past Michigan State 105-86 and Indiana edged Northwestern 80-78.

St. Bonaventure cleared its bench in the first half against Belmont Abbey in rolling to a 64-30 lead. Bob Lanier scored 28 points and Matt Gantt 23 as the Bonnies upped their record to 14-1.

Lakers Beat Cincy Royals To Get Back To 1st Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A nine-game winning streak is old stuff to the New York Knicks, but to the Los Angeles Lakers, it means a fresh breath of first place.

The Lakers made it nine in a row Tuesday night when they rode the deadly shooting of Jerry West to a 124-114 victory over the Cincinnati Royals in Cleveland. The string has raised them into first place by a half game over Atlanta in the National Basketball Association's Western Division.

The Knicks, who already set an NBA record earlier this season with 18 straight triumphs, couldn't get nearly as excited when they beat San Francisco 118-98 in New York for nine consecutive victories. They hold a solid seven game lead over Milwaukee.

In other games, Boston defeated Chicago 93-85 and Seattle downed the Bullets 120-115 in a doubleheader in Baltimore and Phoenix turned back Philadelphia 131-123.

Still playing without injured Walt Chamberlain, the Lakers looked to West, who hit nine of 12 field shots and 21 points in his first quarter as Los Angeles built a 20-point lead. West finished with 38 points.

Offsetting Chamberlain's absence was the absence of Oscar Robertson. Cincinnati great who is out at least another two weeks with a severe groin injury.

The Knicks moved to a 62-47 halftime lead behind Walt Frazier's 19 points and then coasted as Willis Reed hit 17 of his 21 points in the final half and finished with 26 rebounds. Injuries to Jeff Mullins and Clyde Lee of San Francisco also helped.

Rookie Jo Jo White had 23 points and John Havlicek 21 as Boston pulled away to a 46-41 halftime lead against the frigid Bulls and had little trouble thereafter.

Seattle overcame a 59-53 halftime deficit behind Bob Rule's 49 points and 23 by Bob Boozer for a 116-113 lead that stood up. Phoenix' victory over Philadelphia moved the Suns into a tie for third place in the Western Division with the Chicago Bulls.

Phoenix broke the close game open with four minutes left, outscoring the 76ers 9-1. Connie Hawkins collected six of the points to give the Suns a commanding seven-point lead.

Billy Cunningham kept Philadelphia in contention with 40 points while Hawkins and Gail Goodrich topped Phoenix with 28 points each.

Gilmore Brings Jacksonville To Forefront Of Basketball

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—It's an overgrown country town famed for the Gator Bowl, a northern-flowing river and being the Free World's largest city in measurable dirtland.

There's 800 square miles here covered by 525,000 humans, a billion pine trees and one slightly inhuman 7-foot-2 basketball player.

"Artis Gilmore is good enough right now to make or break a pro franchise the way Lew Alcindor did," says Jacksonville University cage recruiter Tom Wasdin. "He's a superman in sneakers."

Gilmore has lifted Jacksonville in his bony hands to the top 10 of the college basketball world and the once-smalltime Dolphins are almost certain to get their pick of NCAA or NIT post-season tournament spots barring a catastrophe.

Jacksonville's rise has been phenomenal. The Dolphins are 15-1 and ranked eighth in The Associated Press major college poll. They were sixth until Florida State, now 12th, knocked them off 89-83 last week.

"In one word — recruiting is the answer," said coach Joe Williams when asked for his formula. "It didn't come as quickly as it might seem. We sweated blood a halfdozen years but one man like Artis Gilmore can turn it into a party overnight."

Rex Morgan has taken his step down to second banana well and is one of Gilmore's big boosters. The 6-foot-5 senior from Charleston, Ill., averaged 27 points last season on a 17-7 club that was the winningest Dixie independent.

When Williams came to Jacksonville from a high school coaching job six years ago he had a recruiting budget of $250.

"We recruited with penny post cards in the old days," smiled Williams. "If we got anybody from far off it was a pure accident."

John Carlos Says He's The Greatest

SAN DIEGO (AP)—John Carlos, the world's fastest human, says unabashedly he'll be just as unbeatable as a pro football player as he is sprinting the 100-yard dash.

"My mental attitude is superior to Jimmy Hines, Bob Hayes and all those cats," Carlos said Tuesday of other top sprinters who have gone into pro football. "They think they can be beat. I can't be beat. I'll just apply that attitude to football."

Santa Anita Park To Open Today

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Finally off the ground after a crippling strike, Santa Anita park thoroughbred racing returned to normal today with 47 days remaining of a fractured 75-day season.

The next stakes offering will be raced Thursday, the $20,000 added Santa Ysabel, at seven furlongs for 3 year-old fillies.

Game Televised

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The championship game of the NCAA college division basketball tournament in Evansville, Ind., March 13 will be televised nationally for the first time, the NCAA announced Tuesday.

Thirty-two teams will play in eight regional tournaments March 6-7 with the winners advancing to the finals in Evansville March 11.

Global Sports Television Network of Palo Alto, Calif., will handle the telecast. Evansville will be blacked out unless the game is sold out 48 hours in advance.

Judge Eyes Flood Suit

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal Judge Irving Cooper, likening himself to an umpire, has given attorneys of both sides 20 days to file additional papers in the suit against baseball by Curt Flood.

Judge Cooper heard arguments Tuesday in U.S. District Court concerning Flood's request that baseball be enjoined from preventing him to act as a free agent.

Flood, a $90,000-a-year outfielder, contesting his trade by the St. Louis Cardinals to the Philadelphia Phillies, contends baseball's reserve clause violates anti-trust laws. The reserve clause binds a player to one team until he is traded or sold.

Judge Cooper compared himself to an umpire who "calls them as he sees them."

"That I shall do," he said. "You've thrown the ball to me — I hope I don't miff it."

Rinka Has 3,000 Points; Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Kenyon College's John Rinka has become the first Ohio basketball player ever to officially score 3,000 career points. The Little All-American, small by modern standards at 5-foot-9, netted 42 points in a game with Muskingum Tuesday night to give him a career total of 3,012.

He is only the seventh NCAA College Division player in history to crack the 3,000-point mark.

Rinka's 41-point average this season is tops in the country among small college players and he could become the first player in 20 years to win consecutive NCAA scoring titles.

Rinka actually is not the first college player in Ohio history to score 3,000 points. Bevo Francis of Rio Grande scored 3,272 in two seasons and 67 games, but the NCAA recognized only 1,835 points in 39 games for him.

Rinka's 42 points weren't enough to carry the Lords to victory, as Muskingum won the Ohio Conference game 112-100.

Larry Sauer led the winners with 32 points.

In other Ohio Conference games, Otterbein came from behind to edge Heidelberg 89

In Memoriam

In memory of our son, Ralph
Hunt, Jr. who passed away four years ago.
You are not forgotten, loved one.
Nor will you ever be.
As long as life and memory last
We will remember you.
Sadly missed by parents and sisters.

1. Card of Thanks

We would like to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy, beautiful floral offerings, and kind words to our relatives, friends and neighbors during the time of our sudden sorrows at the passing of our husband and father,
Mr. and Mrs. Frank White.
Also a special thanks for the kindness of the Porter
Funeral Home and Rev. Robert St.
Clair and Rev. Frank White.
Mrs. Lena Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Downs and family.

We wish to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to all of our kind friends, neighbors and relatives who were so good to us during the illness and death of our darling daughter, Beverly. We wish to thank all who sent cards and the many beautiful flowers. Also the Defen-baugh Funeral Home for their kindness, the pallbearers and Rev.
Flowers for his comforting words.
Dr. Anderson and all who in any way helped us to bear our burden.
We are deeply appreciated.
The Wertman Family

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — This is the season when college football players dream of fat bonus payments, solid gold Cadillacs and six-figure contracts. However, the number of instant millionaires on campus has declined sharply in recent years.

The time has come for the college athletes to deal, either personally or through their agents, with the professional clubs who drafted them. In some cases it is an ego shattering experience. Norman Young is one of those agents—or management consultants, as he prefers to be known. He operates the firm of Probus (pro business) Management, Inc. with his wife, Lenore, and several assistants in suburban White Plains, N.Y. The company offers a complete management package to the athlete.

If the athlete desires, Young's people will bank his pay check, invest his money, make out his tax returns and help him build a publicity image.

Young, an accountant, tax expert and business manager of doctors before he formed his own company, says he represents 13 of the collegians recently drafted by pro football teams. Among them are two first-round picks, Cedric Hardman and Duane Thomas of West Texas State. Hardman is a defensive end who was drafted by the San Francisco 49ers and was the ninth player selected among the 442 who were taken in the full 17 rounds. Thomas is a running back, grabbed by the Dallas Cowboys as No. 23.

When and if the contracts are negotiated, Young's firm will take 10 per cent as a fee. This covers such services as preparing tax returns, handling of money for living expenses and conservative investments in stocks or business ventures, publicity and aid in securing off season employment. The firm provides a monthly statement of the client's financial picture.

"I think the average athlete needs somebody to help him when he gets into the business world," said Young. "You would be surprised how many doctors have business problems. They're so engrossed in their work that they neglect such things as fees, income tax and general management."

Naturally, Young dodges using names when he talks about the affairs of his players. He did tell an amusing tale though.

"One fellow had been sent a gasoline credit card by an oil company while he still was in college. He ran up a $1,500 tab with no money to pay it. Included on the bill were 15 new automobile tires. 'Do you want to hear the kicker? The fellow doesn't have a car.'"

Penix And Hess Players Of Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jim Penix of Bowling Green, a 6-foot-5 guard, and Doug Hess of Toledo, a 7-foot center, are the Mid-American Conference co-basketball players of the week.

Penix scored 27 and a career high 33 points in Falcon victories over St. Joseph's (Pa.) and Western Michigan last week. He hit 20 of 34 floor shots and 20 of 21 free throws in the two games.

Penix, a senior from Rossford, had made 29 straight foul shots before a miss against Western Michigan.

Government Builds Bulwark Against More Oil Seepage

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — There was a bigger oil spill, but it was the Santa Barbara disaster just one year ago that finally lubricated the creaky wheels of government.

Today, while dribbets of oil still streak the sea off the California coast, the federal government at last has begun to build the bulwarks needed for years against the growing threat of spilled oil.

That danger already had been emphasized almost two years before Santa Barbara when, in March 1967, the giant oil tanker Torrey Canyon rammed into another ship and spilled 119,000 tons of crude oil across the water, to blacken the coasts of Southern England and France.

For the maritime nations of the world it was an eye-opener. "Before the sinking of the Torrey Canyon," says Kenneth Biglane, the Interior Department's top oil pollution expert, "the world had not realized so many square miles of water or land could be insulted by just one accident."

President Lyndon B. Johnson ordered the secretaries of interior and transportation to assess the pollution-defenses of the United States' own 88,633 miles of shoreline.

In February 1968, they reported: "This country is not fully prepared to deal effectively with spills of oil or other hazardous materials—large or small—and much less with a Torrey Canyon type disaster."

The report recommended tougher antipollution regulations, stronger legislation and more funding, expanded research, strengthening of international agreements and development of a domestic contingency plan.

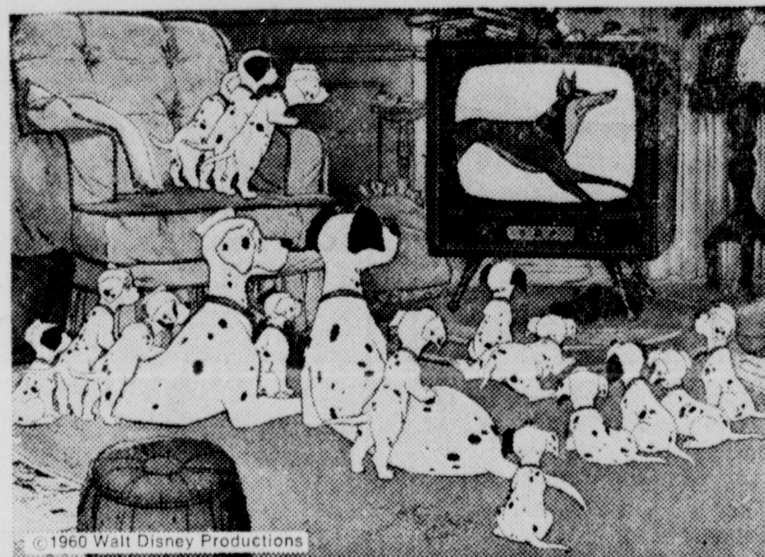

But there was little motion on regulations, research or legislation.

To cope with spills from ships, the nation's best weapon was a 1924 law, applicable—because of a 1966 amendment—only against "grossly negligent or willful" violations. The word "grossly," lawyers said, made it virtually unenforceable.

It did not cover spills from land-based facilities—a "critically significant" omission, according to the secretaries' report. Interior department regulations were equally weak.

Legislation to bar pollution by land and sea facilities under threat of fines and imprisonment, and to put the clean-up costs on the polluter, was introduced in 1968 but failed to pass.

On Jan. 15, 1969, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, introduced similar legislation which is still alive in congress.

Mass Transit Subsidy Bill Faces Rough Time In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a relatively smooth ride through the Senate, a $3.1 billion mass transit subsidy bill may face rougher going in the House as supporters begin the push for final action this session.

The Senate gave the measure overwhelming 83-4 passage Tuesday, bolstering the hopes of sponsors that the House's traditionally less-friendly attitude to such legislation can be overcome.

The House Banking Committee announced the start of public hearing March 2 on the bill. But the real trouble could come in the powerful House Appropriations Committee.

That committee is expected to oppose the contract authority feature of the bill, feeling it amounts to backdoor financing.

But Senate sponsors said the new federal grants and loans proposed under the measure would save many subway systems now on their last legs.

make it possible to start new ones in cities across the nation, cut traffic congestion, and reduce air pollution.

Originally, supporters hoped for a bigger program, wanting the aid to come through a trust fund as highway spending is financed.

But President Nixon rejected the trust fund idea. This led to a compromise under which the contract authority provision was substituted.

In addition, the total authorization was held to $3.1 billion instead of the $10 billion originally suggested, and strict limits were put on the amounts that actually could be spent in the early years.

Board Of Health To Obtain Films

Pickaway County Board of Health will obtain films on drugs, alcoholism and smoking to be shown along with health talks given by the department in the county schools.

The decision was made at the regular meeting session of board members Friday in the court house office.

To satisfy requests made by school principals and to assist the health nurse in offering complete services, board members suggested that a yearly schedule be submitted to the schools by the county health nurse for pre-school clinics, TB skin testing and measles clinic.

In other action during the meeting Sanitarian R. T. Blaney requested permission to invite a representative from the State Department of Health, Division of Engineering, to make a survey of the area north and east of the city of Circleville pertaining to the servicing of this area with central sewage systems.

The "Resolution of Endorsement, of the Mid-Ohio Health Planning Federation" was tabled by the board until "more information is forthcoming." At the present time, "we are in disfavor of any governmental agency of Pickaway County contributing monetarily in support of an organization whose thinking may be contrary to the wishes of the Pickaway County Board of Health."

A motion for approval of bills to be paid was favored by board members present: Mrs. William Hildenbrand, Dale F. Smith and Dr. Paul Teegardin Jr.

Fayette Voters To Decide Vo-Ed School Issue

The issue of a vo-ed school will be left up to voters of Fayette County according to a statement made Monday by Washington C. H. Board of Education President Dr. Byers W. Shaw. The board agreed it will support the district's membership in the South Central Joint Vocational District as a means of complying with state requirements. Voters will decide whether or not a joint vocational building will be built to service a 10-district area spanning three counties.

State legislation requires that all school districts submit a plan for vocational education within its district by April 1. Each district has three choices: to become a part of a joint district; contact with a district having an approved program; or provide a program within a comprehensive district.

Circleville City and Pickaway County School officials are currently participating in plans for a proposed joint vo-ed school for Ross and Pickaway County school districts.

A conference is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Feb. 11 in Chillicothe High School involving all board members, district superintendents and guidance personnel of the participating joint district schools.

Kennedy Credit Statement Brings Stock Market Boom

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, starved for an encouraging word, feasted Tuesday on remarks by Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy indicating that lower interest rates may be just around the corner.

"That happy day may be closer to hand than most people realize," he said in a speech that triggered a rally on Wall Street.

Sluggish until Kennedy's statement reached investors, the market broke loose in heavy trading. The Dow Jones industrial average rocketed from a loss of 3.37 points to a gain of more than 18 and closed ahead 11.02 at 757.46. Volume on the New York Stock Exchange soared to 16.05 million shares.

Kennedy, addressing 300 business executives at a savings bond campaign luncheon, said: "Once the inflationary psychology is broken and the business community and the public in general begin to look forward to greater stability, interest rates will drop to a more reasonable level and other salutary effects will be felt throughout the economy."

In answer to a later news conference question as to when interest rates would decline, Kennedy said: "I don't have a date."

Monetary restrictions have been named by brokers as the main cause of the market's sharp decline in recent months. Investors, at least initially, seemed to ignore Tuesday some words of caution interlaced among Kennedy's optimistic remarks.

In this vein, he said that for "those who doubt the determination of our anti-inflation effort . . . I want to say as strongly as I can that they are badly mistaken. We will continue our policies of restraint until we have restored basic health and stability to the economy."

Teen Goodwill Tour Planning Sessions Set

Informative meetings for students and parents interested in the People - to People High School Ambassador Program have been scheduled Feb. 10 and 16 at the Hall-Adkins Legion Post, Route 23, just south of Circleville. Both meetings will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bush, Williamsport, who were chosen to lead the local delegation on the international goodwill tour, will conduct the information meetings. Filmstrips will be shown on the program by state director, Mrs. Elsie V. Weaver, Columbus.

The six weeks tour of Europe next summer includes visits to 11 European countries. In four of these countries, students will be allowed to live with selected families as part of the goodwill tour. Everywhere they travel, they will meet with other students and adults in meetings and socials as United States' representatives or ambassadors.

Mrs. Bush is a teacher in Derby and Mr. Bush is postmaster of Williamsport. Both are active in youth, lodge, veterans and church work.

Government Builds Bulwark Against More Oil Seepage

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — There was a bigger oil spill, but it was the Santa Barbara disaster just one year ago that finally lubricated the creaky wheels of government.

Today, while dribbles of oil still streak the sea off the California coast, the federal government at last has begun to build the bulwarks needed for years against the growing threat of spilled oil.

That danger already had been emphasized almost two years before Santa Barbara when, in March 1967, the giant oil tanker Torrey Canyon rammed into another ship and spilled 119,000 tons of crude oil across the water, to blacken the coasts of Southern England and France.

For the maritime nations of the world it was an eye-opener. "Before the sinking of the Torrey Canyon," says Kenneth Biglane, the Interior Department's top oil pollution expert, "the world had not realized so many square miles of water or land could be insulted by just one accident."

President Lyndon B. Johnson ordered the secretaries of interior and transportation to assess the pollution-defenses of the United States' own 88,633 miles of shoreline.

In February 1968, they reported: "This country is not fully prepared to deal effectively with spills of oil or other hazardous materials—large or small—and much less with a Torrey Canyon type disaster." The report recommended tougher antipollution regulations, stronger legislation and more funding, expanded research, strengthening of international agreements and development of a domestic contingency plan.

But there was little motion on regulations, research or legislation.

To cope with spills from ships, the nation's best weapon was a 1924 law, applicable—because of a 1966 amendment—only against "grossly negligent or willful" violations. The word "grossly," lawyers said, made it virtually unenforceable.

It did not cover spills from land-based facilities—a "critically significant" omission, according to the secretaries' report. Interior department regulations were equally weak.

Legislation to bar pollution by land and sea facilities under threat of fines and imprisonment, and to put the clean-up costs on the polluter, was introduced in 1968 but failed to pass.

On Jan. 15, 1969, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, introduced similar legislation which is still alive in congress.
